Wilton answers call, joins township race

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

Antioch Mayor Robert Wilton, who is not seeking re-election this April, will instead run for Antioch Township Supervisor making it a three-way race.

Wilton, who originally had plans to retire from politics this May, received numerous calls from township residents that wanted him to join the race for supervisor.

According to Wilton, the people are asking for a public servant who will better represent the community on all issues.

"I offer myself as your candidate for change," said Wilton. "As a mayor, I never forgot that I was a servant of the people. To me, this is what any elected official should always remember and never forget."

In addition to public input, Wilton said he changed his mind on retirement from politics because Antioch Township is vulnerable to severe change in the near future and he wants to give the people their voice in township government.

"Change is inevitable," said Wilton. "It is at our doorstep now. What is needed is a candidate who will represent the people of this township and be responsive to them. I fully intend to be that candidate."

According to Wilton, township residents are not happy with the choices of either incumbent Jim Fields or Chain O' Lakes Waterway Management Director Judy Martini.

"That is why I decided to run," said Wilton. "I will seek this office as the one candidate who will truly represent you and be accountable to you. I will listen to you and do what will be in the best interests of your community."

ACHS expels student for sale of drugs on campus

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

Antioch Community High School Superintendent Dr. Robert Schley hopes this does not become a trend.

LSD is back on the streets of America, and apparently back in the halls of ACHS as the Board of Education voted to expel a student for selling a quarter square of LSD to another student on campus.

"We feel this is a very serious offense," said Schley. "We have to discipline the student, but we are also trying to work with him and his family to get some help."

ACHS policies govern against the use, possession, or sale of alcohol or illegal drugs while on school property or at school sponsored events.

"I think the board views the sale of drugs as the most serious of the possible scenarios," said Schley. "All are serious," (Continued on Page 8)

Teacher's pay increase was lower than union released

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

The settlement on a pay increase between the Grass Lake School District 36 Board of Education and its teachers and staff personnel officially turned out to be less than the Illinois Education Association announced after the strike.

In a statement from the board, Grass Lake Superintendent Ruth Bill announced that the teachers and staff officially signed a three-year deal which calls for a 7.75 percent increase this year, with a 6.18 percent in 1993-94 and a 5.87 percent increase in 1994-95. Also not included in the union release was a freeze in health (Continued on Page 6)

The future is now at ACHS

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

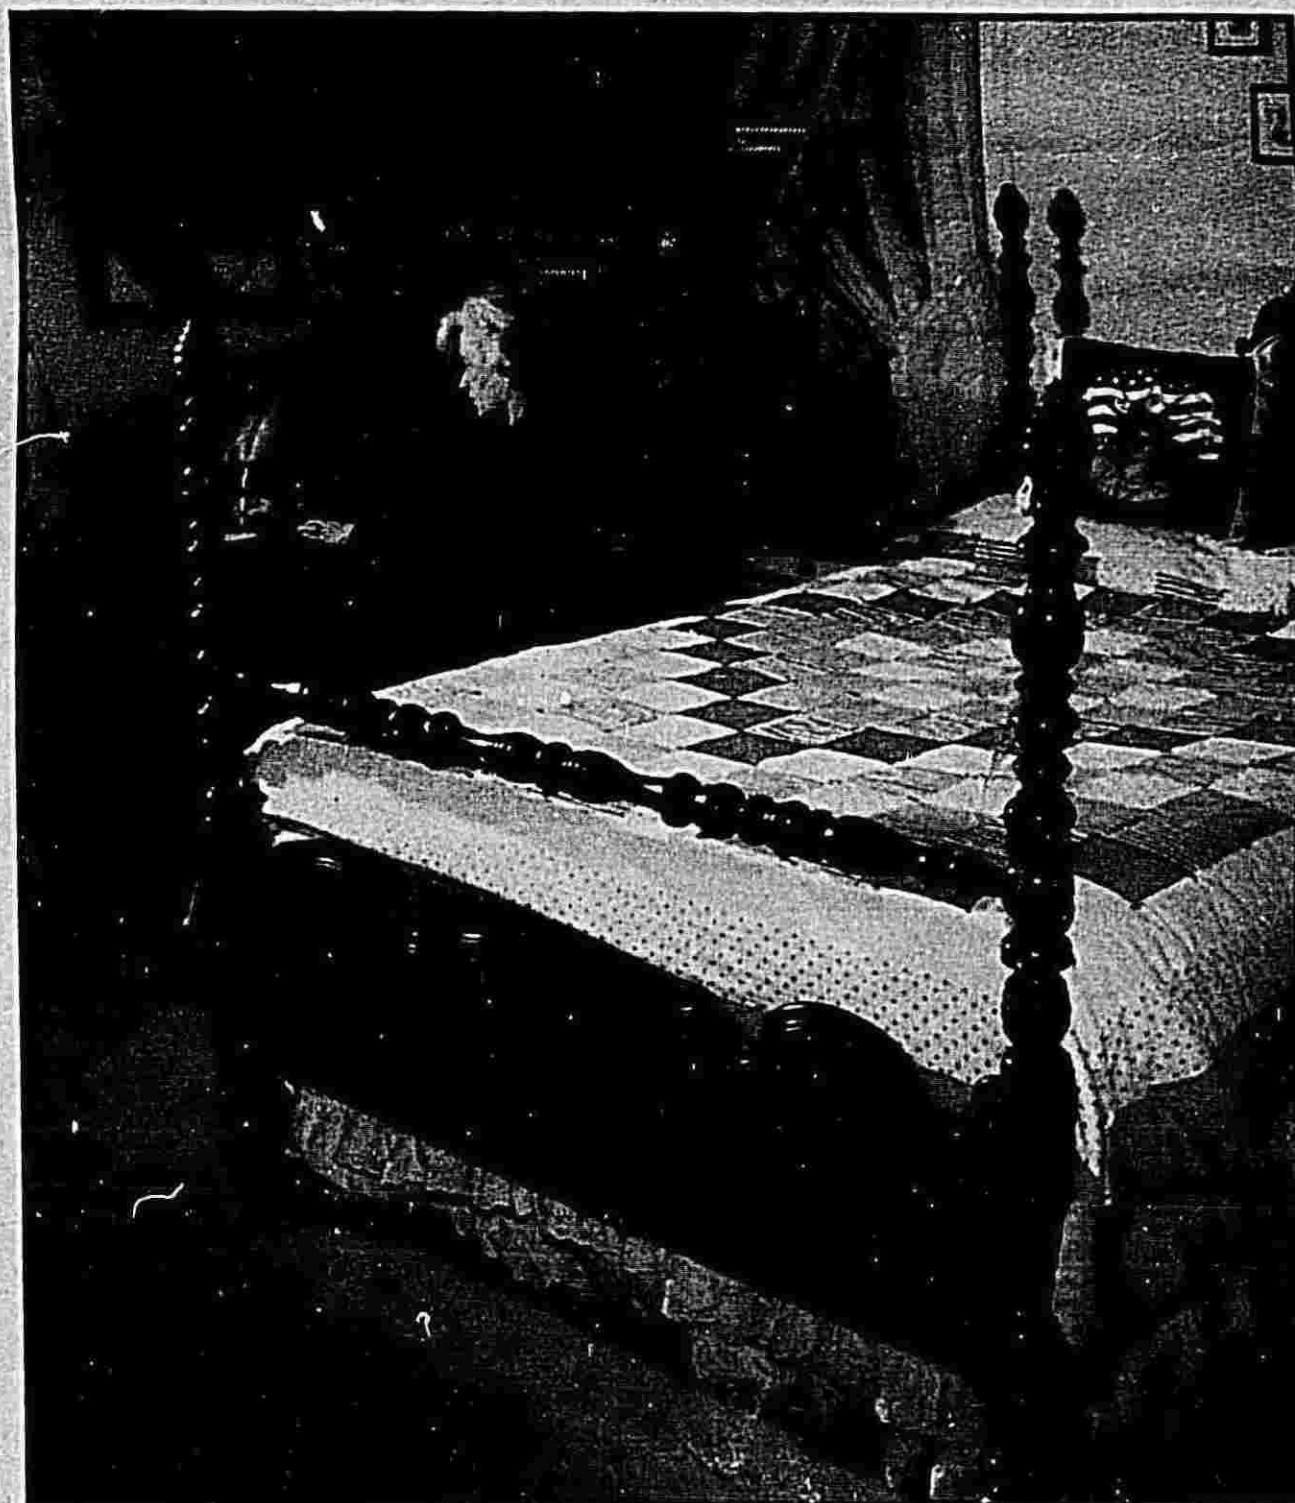

The future of Antioch Community High School could be set during the next few months up to the April 20 consolidated election, when the school district could ask for a new building and education fund money from the tax payers.

The ACHS Board of Education, who hired independent building firm OWP&P

Architects, is looking at five proposals which would eliminate the present overcrowding, allow for growth in the area, and meet the future needs of the ACHS students.

These proposals, which were placed in front of the public at two separate public meetings in the district last week, could signal the end of ACHS as many people know it today.

CAUSE needs local financial boost

LAKE VILLA—Citizens Against UnSafe Electricity, a non-profit group seeking to stop a proposed Commonwealth Edison transmission line through Antioch and Lake Villa Townships, is asking affected residents, who will live near the proposed line, and concerned citizens to donate to their cause. CAUSE, in an open letter to the residents of Lake Villa, Lindenhurst, Loon Lake, West Miltmore, Antioch and Round Lake Beach, asked families with children attending, now or in the future, Pleviak or Lake Villa Intermediate Schools to donate $75 to $100 per household.

'Partners' honors two for continued service

They have also been in the floral business, Balmes Flower Shop and Greenhouse, for 41 years in North Chicago.

Firefighters want promotion within

LAKE ZURICH—The Lake Zurich Firefighters Union continued its face off with village officials, calling for a new training officer to be hired from within the department. Union President Phillip Cappitelli read a statement from the union to the Board of Trustees Monday evening stating that hiring from within would increase morale and preserve the integrity of the department.

It's the most difficult course in Lake County

LAKE COUNTY—Golfers of all abilities are invited to challenge old man winter and take part in a "Chili Open Golf Tournament" at the Lake County Forest Preserves' Brae Loch Golf Course at 8 a.m., Jan. 23. Nine holes of golf will be followed by an all-you-can-eat chili lunch and prize distribution.

Resident starts fund for accident victims

WAUCONDA—Bob Schaewe, a Wauconda resident, opened the Soto Accident Fund at Wauconda National Bank to aid in medical expenses and getting a car for the family of six. Eryka Soto, 9, remains in serious condition at Milwaukee Children's Hospital, Jennifer Soto, mother, remains in good condition at Northern Illinois Medical Center in McHenry, Adrianna, 11, and her father Francisco have been released from NIMC. The two car accident occurred near Volo New Year's Eve.

District 79 to make referendum decision

MUNDELEIN—The Fremont Board of Education Dist. 79 will likely decide to place a referendum on the April ballot to fund an addition to the one-school rural district at their Jan. 25 meeting. Four options to expand the current campus plus the possibility of a separate facility being constructed on a Route 83 site have been discussed. The option prices range from $4.9 million to $6.2 million.

Gurnee, Waukegan banks plan merger

GURNEE—The board of directors of Gurnee National Bank and American National Bank & Trust Company of Waukegan have voted to make application to the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency to merge the banks. Each bank has designated two directors to work with management to complete this merger, David Hiner and Gerald Erickson from Gurnee and Bryan Swank and John Simcik from Waukegan.

Village clerk pay raise approved

LAKE ZURICH—Who ever is elected Lake Zurich Village Clerk in the April election will receive a pay raise. The village board approved raising the clerk's salary to $2,400 from $1,200 annually for the statutory requirements.

Board formally endorses riverboats

FOX LAKE—One of Fox Lake's resolutions for the new year is an endorsement of the proposed riverboat gambling site on the Fox River. The village board has passed a resolution indicating its support. Copies of the resolution are being sent to various elected officials and members of the Illinois Gaming Board. Fox Lake officials were hoping the site would be within village limits, so the village and schools could enjoy direct revenue. The consensus opinion, however, is that the village will benefit anyway because of the proximity. The site on Rte. 173 is less than a mile from current Fox Lake limits.

25-cent tax rate goes back on April ballot

ROUND LAKE—Voters in the Round Lake school district will have reason to go to the polls on Tuesday, April 20. It is a referendum to raise taxes. Specifically, it is to increase the operation and maintenance fund by 25 cents per $100 of assessed valuation. This is the same issue defeated in the November election. At the same time, voters approved a $4.5 million tax referendum. That was the fifth time on the ballot for the tax hike, first time for the other one. As in November, school officials say the 25-cent increase will not mean more money out of taxpayer pockets. They will sell the proposition as returning to the school money they were previously paying.

Sherman leads exodus at Round Lake schools

ROUND LAKE—Round Lake schools will have a new look next year. Retirements of top echelon personnel is the reason. Leaving their positions are Supt. Robert Sherman, high school Principal James Prault, school district Business Manager George Burnham, school district Athletic Director Kenneth Ricci and Magee Junior High School Principal Wilda Stanton. All except Prault are leaving by July 1. They are taking advantage of a new state retirement program except Stanton, who has reached normal retirement age.

Village annexes Thorngate site

RIVERWOODS—After more than two years of controversy, Riverwoods officials voted to approve Lexington Homes request to annex Thorngate Country Club to the village. About 40 village residents and Lexington representatives attended the village board meeting as Mayor Chuck Smith and four trustees voted "yes" on the developer's plan to build 289 single-family, detached homes on the 151-acre site. Trustee Paul Newall cast the dissenting vote.

Police continuing query into beating

GRAYSLAKE—Police are still investigating the severe beating of a 17-year-old Grant High School student after the Grant-Grayslake boys basketball game Dec. 15. Grayslake Police Chief Edward Wunderle said the problem is the assailants weren't from Grayslake but perhaps from another area of the county. "We've interviewed five or six witnesses and showed them photos," Wunderle said. "It's just a matter of time until we something from an informant." Wunderle

ANTIOCH—The settlement on a pay increase between the Grass Lake School District 36 Board of Education and its teachers and staff personnel officially turned out to be less than the Illinois Education Association announced after the strike. In a statement from the board, Grass Lake Superintendent Ruth Bill announced that the teachers and staff officially signed a three-year deal which calls for a 7.75 percent increase this year, with a 6.18 percent in 1993-94 and a 5.87 percent increase in 1994-95. ## You Call That Removal?

I live in a Vernon Hills subdivision and I am very upset. After my husband spent hours shoveling the driveway, a goofy neighbor took his snowplow out and did his driveway. Not only did he clear his driveway, but he buried ours! Because the homes are so close together, neighbors on both sides of this goofball now have to shovel driveways again. I hope he reads this and takes a little more care the next time he snowblows his driveway!

Shovel Your Walk!

I'm a postal carrier who wishes to remain townless. There are numerous obstacles that we must hurdle every day when we deliver your mail. If it's not a dog, it's something else. There's one thing that honestly slows us down, and that's when people do not shovel their walkways. We would be able to deliver your mail much quicker if we didn't have to sidestep piles of snow and sheets of ice on your walk. Make it a point to remember this call when it snows. Thank you.

He's A Real !&$%*!!

I really hope the man quoted in the "Vernon Hills News" was misquoted when he said "people who live in $500,000 or million-dollar homes don't want to see disabled people walking around." I was shocked to read such a statement. Who does he think he is? That man needs an education!

Editor's Note: After checking with village officials, the quote was correctly attributed and reported.

Deer Dilemma Continues

If I were the Lake County Forest Preserve, I would shoot excess deer. I don't want my tax dollars used to transport, feed or maintain the deer. A deer is an animal; tax dollars come from humans. Get rid of the deer and get rid of the problems.

School Bells Ring In Snow

Why did Grayslake schools conduct classes on Jan. 13 when every other school had off? It's not that I hate school or anything, it's just that getting to school was such a pain for me and my parents. After shoveling the driveway, which took an hour, we had to take showers and then get ready for school. We were late for school, and from what I hear, most of the early classes were a joke! We should have had a snow day!

Headquarters Announced

The group that is against riverboat gambling, ARC, is headquartered at the Methodist Church. The phone number is 395-1259. If you are interested and want to oppose riverboat casinos, you can get petitions and letters there.

What Are Your Thoughts?

In addition to your Lipservice calls, this column will also feature responses to a single question developed by the Lakeland Newspapers' news team. The responses will be printed in Lipservice each week.

This week, the Lakeland Newspaper's news team would like your response to: "Our local school system could do better it....."

Respond as soon as possible to see your words in print!

Seniors Want Boats

How about the people of Antioch sign the petitions to put the riverboats of Lake County at the Antioch Senior Center. Why don't we make that the site? I'm sure everyone would be glad to go there. Thank you, again. You're doing a great job.

Snow-Bound Injuries

This is to all the stupid people using snow tubes on the Lakewood Preserve sled hill on Sunday, Jan. 10. Everybody in my family was wiped out at the bottom of the hill by tubers going out of control. My 7-year-old daughter was literally bowled over by two small children in tubes. She suffered a broken collar bone in the fall. The kids' parents didn't even apologize. A few minutes later, my wife and 4-year-old daughter were wiped out by five tubers including two adults going down the hill, holding hands in a chain. Not only did they not apologize, but proceeded to do it again on their next time down the hill. I don't fault the small kids going down the hills in tubes, but their parent or the older people surely saw what was happening, but nobody did anything about it. My daughter thanks you for her broken collar bone.

Look Who's Talking

I got a real laugh reading the Lipservice last week. To the person who told other people to learn the facts about the library board and the park district: Maybe you should attend library and park district meetings to really learn the facts. No. 1: I don't understand the density problem in Central Park. Following the story, myself, I understood that the park was acquired by a grant, with no donation involved and no rules involved regarding the density. No. 2: Learn the facts, yourself. The pool would be outdoors. By having the pool outdoors, I don't think that will ruin the books inside. Take your own advice, caller. Learn the facts, or are you a typical Grayslake resident who believes that no matter what the park district does is wrong.

If Mad, Write To....

Anybody who is opposed to riverboat gambling in Antioch can write to: Illinois Gaming Board, 116 N. LaSalle, Suite 3005, Chicago, IL 60601.

Sink The Riverboats

I am calling about the riverboat gambling site on Rte. 173. I am completely opposed to this project. There are so many reasons to be against this, I could go on and on. We are a country town, and I think we all moved out here for that reason. I can't believe that we even have to worry about this sort of thing happening in this area. I don't think I would have to tell you what would happen if this went through. The impact on Rte. 173, the animals, the wetlands, the state park and the peoples' property on the river. You people who are for this, did you ever think about those people? Would you want two gigantic gambling boats going back and forth, umpteen times every day in front of your house? What happens to those peoples' rights to swim, fish or ski as families. What kind of message are we sending our kids. We

Three area scouts earn their Eagle rank at one ceremony

Antioch's Boy Scouts of America Troop 92 honored three Eagle Scouts at the Loyal Order of Moose Lodge 525 in Antioch on Jan. 16. Dan Weston, Gene Brown and John Thelen, each a college-bound high school senior, reached the rank after nearly six year in the organization.

Weston, who joined the troop in 1985, earned eight skill awards and 32 merit badges before reaching the rank of Eagle. Weston also served in leadership position some 10 times. Highlight of his scouting career include a trip to Philmont, Junior Leadership Training Staff, and National Leadership Training. For his Eagle project, a community project all Eagle Scouts must plan, lead, and complete, Weston reconstructed and widened the two-mile nature trail at Chain O' Lakes State Park.

Brown entered the troop in 1986, earning eight skill awards and 25 merit badges before reaching the rank of Eagle. Brown served in seven leadership positions, including Junior Leadership Training Staff and National Junior Leadership Training. Brown's accomplishments include a trip to Philmont and some 19 other special events. Brown's Eagle Project involved clearing land and installing an irrigation system for evergreen tree at Antioch's water treatment plant.

Thelen joined the troop in 1985, earning eight skill awards and 23 merit badges. Thelen served in 10 leadership positions, including Junior Leadership Training. Of his 13 special scouting activities, Thelen also went on a Philmont trek. Thelen's Eagle Project involved the repainting of all Antioch's parking meters as part of the village's beautification project.

Eagle Ceremony coordinator and troop treasurer Harold Clark began the Eagle Court of Honor by introducing special guests, including State Senator Adeline Geo-Karis and Lindenhurst Mayor Paul Baumunk.

New Eagle Scouts Dan Weston, Gene Brown and John Thelen receive congratulations from Scoutmaster Emeritus Bernie Dost and Scoutmaster Dick Weston.

CAUSE seeks money from area residents and businesses

Citizens Against Unsafe Electricity, a non-profit group seeking to stop a proposed Commonwealth Edison transmission line through Antioch and Lake Villa Townships, is asking affected residents, who will live near the proposed line, and concerned citizens to donate to their cause.

According to CAUSE President Tony Petrucci, CAUSE received some $65,000 in support so far in their fight against Edison. This support has come in the form of cash, office space, facilities, supplies, and other professional services.

However, according to Petrucci, CAUSE needs everyone's support to continue to battle Edison in Illinois Commerce Commission court.

"Electrical engineers, epidemiologists, and other experts, holding Ph.D. credentials and national reputations, don't fly into Chicago out of goodness of their hearts," said Petrucci. "It makes a great deal of money to fight Edison."

Petrucci, in an open letter to the residents of Lake Villa, Lindenhurst, Loon Lake, West Milwaukee, Antioch and Round Lake Beach, asked families with children attending, now or in the future, Pleviak or Lake Villa Intermediate Schools to donate $75 to $100 per household.

The group is also asking those homeowners living adjacent to or within 900 feet of the Wisconsin Central right of way, the area nearest the railroad tracks, to donate $75 to $100 per household.

Business owners are being asked to donate $100 to $200 per business.

Major housing developers are being asked to give $1,000 to $10,000.

Other concerned citizens, who are not directly affected by the lines, are asked to donate $20 to $100.

"I realize I'm asking for a significant contribution," said Petrucci. "But, we have a decisive battle in front of us. We need your support to force Edison to act responsibly."

Antioch area needs a year-round ice facility

New facility

Once again I have had several calls from individuals asking me to utilize this "Hometown Goodies" column to stir up some interest in getting an indoor, year round ice arena/recreational facility erected in Antioch. The feeling of my callers, and I certainly agree, is that Antioch is a family orientated, growing community. Also while there are some very enjoyable seasonal recreational opportunities available in and around Antioch, there is definitely an asset to the town.

A facility of this nature could be (and in my opinion would be) utilized in many ways on a constant basis. To name a few, October through February it would serve as an ice arena for hockey programs for all ages, for figure skating lessons and performance, and for public ice skating at scheduled times.

March through September it could serve as a roller rink on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, while Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday it would become an exhibition hall for RV shows, auto shows, antique shows, bridal shows, boat shows, dog shows, arts and craft fairs, toy shows, art exhibits, music festivals, etc. Let your imagination run wild.

If I had the money, or even more so the know how, I would get the ball rolling myself. Unfortunately neither is the case and the best I can do to help make an arena/recreational facility of this nature become a reality for our town is to plant the seed by bringing it up via the "Hometown Goodies" column from time to time.

Surely there is a group of business people or investors that can envision the need and benefits this type of recreational facility could produce for our town. A riverboat casino may or may not be a good idea for our area. However, if that becomes a reality it is targeted for the enjoyment of adults only. Surely it is equally advantageous, if not even more so, to offer additional recreation opportunities to citizens of all ages.

With the right teacher and the right skates, maybe even the Lizard could become an Olympic champion or at least learn to stand on the darned things without bending my ankles.

Wake me up

With each passing year of my life, I realize to a greater degree that children are very special little people. As you know, I work for the Village of Antioch as a staff member for the Camp Crayon Program. Even though these "little people" are only three, four or five years old, it is amazing how intelligent, fun loving and aware they are.

While there is a certain amount of structure in the Camp Crayon Program, there is also room for spontaneous fun activities and games. After two days of literally no sleep due to vacation travel and school board meetings, I found myself dragging my tail at

Hometown Goodies

LIZ SCHMEHL

Camp Crayon. A glance out the window made me want to go outdoors and roll around in the cold, white snow in an effort to obtain some energy to continue the day.

So, within ear shot of the children, I asked Miss Marie and Miss Mary if one of them would wash my face in the snow at approximately 10:30 a.m. In my opinion this would revive and rejuvenate me for the remainder of the day. Miss Mary readily (perhaps a bit too readily) agreed to do so.

When we entered our activity circle, about 45 minutes before the scheduled "face washing", we began to discuss the situation with the children and told them they could observe the operation from the window. Many of them could hardly wait for this to happen, while others were skeptical. The skeptics felt that Miss Mary would not really do this to "poor, old Miss Liz".

At 10:30 sharp Miss Mary appeared wearing her jacket and gloves. The children looked amused, amazed and even concerned. As Miss Mary ushered me out of doors, they rushed to the window. Miss Mary picked up a meaty handful of snow and as promised, washed my tired brow, my cheeks and my nose with it.

Miss Marie decided to "horn in" and seized the opportunity to participate in a little bit of snowball throwing, using me as the target. As Miss Mary scrubbed away, Miss Marie bombarded me with a backside snowball attack. A very wet Miss Liz stepped back inside and the children were very excited over the entire happening.

Just as anticipated the fresh air, brisk activity and cold face washing made it possible for me to continue the day with a higher energy level and even a song in my heart. We repeated the activity for all classes and read the next section for a cute story.

Not!

When we announced my face washing to the little ones of the afternoon group, little Kira Haley was the most skeptical. She kept telling Miss Donna that she knew we were kidding. She was 100 percent convinced that Miss Mary would not do such a thing to "Miss Liz".

When Miss Mary appeared wearing her winter apparel, little Kira said "I think Miss Mary is going to wash Miss Liz's face in the snow!" Her eyes widened and her mouth dropped open. Needless to say, she was the first one to position herself at the window, obviously having to see the entire happening for herself in order to believe it.

When Miss Marie added the snowball bombardment, little Kira was definitely overwhelmed by the entire situation. Upon my re-entry, I quickly glanced in her direction and her sparkling, big, brown eyes told me she definitely enjoyed watching Miss Mary and Miss Marie due me in with a wet down of snow.

Famous baby

If I have my way, I will make my grand baby, Alyssa Janelle, Antioch famous via this column. Once again I highly recommend grandparent hood. I guess I would even go as far as recommending it over parenthood, except you can't have one without the other.

Parents have the responsibility to teach, feed, clothe, nurture, potty train, etc. Grandparents simply enjoy the fruits of their labors. They say wisdom comes with age. Now that I am older (and hopefully wiser) I can marvel and brag about all the great and special things a baby does. I am sure my four kids did many of the same things, but I was too busy back then to appreciate and treasure these baby antics as much as I do now.

Auntie Donna gave Alyssa a Fisher Price walking toy for Christmas. Since she was unable to walk by herself, she was delighted to discover how quickly it helped her get from point A to point B. At first she would stop dead in her tracks at walls or furniture pieces waiting for someone to help her move the new toy around each obstacle.

It didn't take her long to figure things out on her own and twisted and turned the toy till she was able to walk further on her way unassisted. Her mommy, Barb, said she played so hard with it each day that her little legs wiggled like rubber at the day's end.

When they came to visit up North, mom and dad decided to leave the new toy back home. However, it didn't take Alyssa long to find a replacement and ordinary cardboard box. When she discovered the special attributes of the box, she looked very smug and I must say grandma looked and felt very proud, knowing she is definitely the smartest little grand baby that ever walked the face of the earth and just who would argue with a granny, especially this one!?

Tax service

Monday, Jan. 11, marked the Grand Opening of the Jackson Hewitt Tax Service in Antioch. People attending the opening were encouraged to register to win a free tax preparation for their 1992 individual income tax return.

This new tax service is located at 950 Main St. in downtown Antioch and their staff of professionals is highly qualified in tax return preparation. With the tax season fast approaching, Antioch residents are very excited to have this facility available in our "Hometown."

Saver

It has been awhile since

I entertained you with a story about my husband, Jim. They say opposites attract and "they" (whoever they are) are right. Jim hangs on to old, out-dated items forever and a day, while I usually toss things out even before they become too old, or too out-dated. He has even been known to check out my spring cleaning garbage bags and save favored items from their doom.

When we recently purchased a new vacuum cleaner, he proudly informed me that he still had the cleaner that bit the dust years prior to this latest one, "Out in the garage"! It is practically approaching antique hood.

I often remark to my dear friend, "Sylvia from the City" that if Jim "goes" before I do, I will have to live 25 years longer because it will take me that long to clean out the garage. In another 30 years I will have to divide the garage items things for the garbage and antiques!!

Dist. 34 earns another good title

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

Antioch Elementary School District 34, after being named one of the area's best for high student test scores, now earned high marks for being one of the county's most economical to the tax payer.

Lake County Superintendent Ed Gonwa released the annual tax and per pupil cost information for 1991-92, which showed Dist. 34 spending an average of $3,889 per student compared to the $5,188 average spent by the county's 31 elementary school districts. The $3,889 spent per student was only a 2.7 percent increase from the previous year.

According to Dist. 34 Superintendent Dr. Donald Skidmore, the district was ranked 25th in the county, with most school districts spending approximately $1,300 more per pupil than Dist. 34 spent.

"Given our high test scores and relatively low costs to the tax payers in our community," said Skidmore. "Antioch is getting a good return on their investment."

The dark side of the district's fiscal story, however, could be the reduction of state funding to the district.

According to Skidmore, the district's state funding has been reduced from 25.6 percent of the budget in 1989-90 to 22.6 percent in 1991-92. The continuing reduction in state funding will cause the district to depend more and more on the property taxpayers, said Skidmore.

benefits, a loss of extra stipends for teachers and the three-day dock in pay for the strikers.

The teachers, according to a union release immediately after the strike, signed a three-year deal which would have given them more than a 27 percent increase over the contract.

According to Association President Ted Galvin last week, the teachers and staff personnel would have received a 10.6 percent increase this year, a 5 percent increase in 1994, and a 6 percent increase in 1995.

Expulsion

but in this case they really had to set a precedent." The board released a statement on the expulsion that said this type of behavior will not be tolerated at ACHS.

This case was the first such expulsion

The second year of the contract, according to Galvin, still allows for a step increase, while those teachers who cannot receive another step increase will receive a $500 bonus.

The Grass Lake teachers were the lowest paid in the county until the deal was struck early on Jan. 11.

Starting salaries for the 13 academic teachers and 10 staff members at 275 student school were at $18,609, compared to more than $21,000 for other area school districts until the new contract increased that figure by nearly $2,000 a year.

of the 1992-93 school year for ACHS.

However, Antioch Consolidated School District 34 expelled a junior high student last month for the possession and consumption of alcohol on a school bus. That student was eligible for reassignment to the district this semester.

Finnish descendant enjoying return to her ancestral roots

by KATHY HOLMES

Thousands and thousands of people immigrated to the United States from Scandinavia in the late nineteenth and early twentieth century. It is fascinating to learn the customs and traditions of another country, and it is even more exciting if that country is of your own ancestral decent.

Finland is a Scandinavian country in northern Europe situated between Sweden and Russia. During the winter war, many Russians came to Finland in search of a better life. It was a very important time in history.

What makes a country important is the things it is made up of. These include the food, the people and most importantly, the customs.

The culture of one country is not comparable to another. Like a snow-flake, no culture is the same. They certainly can be similar, but no culture is exactly the same as another. Finland's customs fall under this category. They are like no other.

The weather is so very different from the U.S. In summer, it may reach 85 degrees or more. In the northernmost parts of the country, Lapland, summer is endless. The sun does not go down for weeks. In winter, the temperature is 15 degrees on the average. It gets to negative temperatures a lot, too (especially in Lapland). The days of winter are brief—only about three hours of light daily. Things start to lighten up a bit in January, though. It is something that needs definite getting used to. That is probably why babies are left outside for hours at a time from birth! Mothers home is the independence. There are still those who choose to stay close to home, though.

It depends on what type of family you come from, but some choose to live together before marriage and some do not. A 17-year-old friend of mine shares her bedroom with her 20-year-old boyfriend, as her parents and her two little brothers share the other bedroom. That happens a lot. When I asked if she thought they'd be married, she said, "Yeah, right!"

The women are very independent in Finland. You will never see a man pay for both dinners or both movie tickets. It is strictly Dutch. No questions asked. Men do not open doors for women or pull out their chairs, either. They'd be very upset if that ever happened to them. It isn't very often that you see a housewife here, either. In fact, I haven't met a single one! The women insist on pursuing their own careers before settling down. When they do get married, they have two to three children and receive one year of maternity leave.

The Finns are also very environmentally conscious. When going grocery shopping, a cloth bag or two is always brought along. They recycle nearly everything and in any case, a plastic bag costs nearly 25 cents.

Walking in Finland is as common as driving in the U.S. Everyone walks. The car is used about once a week. I understand, though, a liter of gasoline here costs as much as a gallon in the U.S. In autumn, a person walking by any school in the country will notice hundreds of bicycles. The kids (and adults) all ride them.

They are all very thin and healthy. It is, indeed, because of their everyday activities. A girl visited the U.S.A. and noticed a weird habit of Americans. Her host mom drove to the place she ran, ran, then drove home. The girl wondered why she didn't run there and back!

Customs are so very different from our own. People go on vacations to observe how others live and they notice how different they are. It doesn't mean they have to go and change the way they live, it just means they have to be aware of how other people live and know that there is another world out there!

International Outlook

bundle up their tiny, little babies and leave them outside for hours in their carriages as they sit inside and sip coffee and eat donuts. That is presumably how Finnish babies get so used to the cold at such a tender age. Soon those babies grow up.

The Finns are very family-oriented people. Children and parents share everything with each other—no secrets.

Children attend school on a college-like schedule. One day they may have a few classes from 9 a.m. to noon and the next day a lot of classes, from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. When entering high school at age 16, one has to apply. If not accepted, one has to find a job or go to a commercial college. In that type of college, one learns only one trade. For the achievers, the ones who were accepted into high school, a strict plan is ahead. They work hard for the next three years, taking all the required classes. At the end of the third year, an exam must be taken. It consists of all the material learned in three years. Some students do not graduate because of it.

It is far from easy. A lot of studying is involved. It is very easy to fall through the cracks as a high-schooler. It is a new world. With no real discipline, one can take off of school whenever he or she pleases. Most choose to stay, I'm happy to say. They realize that in order to become something great in life, hardships have to be overcome.

University approaches quickly. Soon one has to apply all over the country for a position. All the universities are the same. There is no difference in the education or the cost—$0. The main reason to go to a university away from

The five proposals, lettered A through E by the board, include the first option, which is a 284,000 square foot facility at the present high school site, of which 143,000 would be new construction. The cost of Option A would be $26.5 million.

The second option, Option B, would be a brand-new four-year school at the Polley Field site. The new school would be some 325,000 square feet at a cost of $36.4 million.

A third option would be a split campus, 1,800 students at the present Antioch site with 87,000 square feet of additions and significant remodeling done to the remaining 137,000 square feet of the facility. This site would be used by sophomores-seniors. The second part of Option C would include a 69,000 square foot building to be built at the Polley Field site for freshman only. This building would have the room for expansion is needed in the future. The cost of Option C would be $26.9 million.

The fourth option would include splitting the district into two separate four-year high schools, one at the present site and one at the Polley Field site. The plan estimates that there will be 1,200 students at each site, with 56,000 square foot of additions to the Antioch site, with significant remodeling to the rest of the building. The Polley Field building would be a brand new 200,000 square foot facility with future expansion potential. The cost of Option D would be 32.7 million.

The final option would be a split campus with freshman and sophomore at the Antioch site and juniors and seniors at the Polley Field site. The Antioch site would receive 21,000 square feet of additions and 22,000 square feet of remodeling, while the Polley Field site would occupy a new 187,000 square foot building with future growth potential. The cost of Option E is $25.3 million.

"We should get a decision from the building committee soon," said Dr. Robert Schley. "The proposals will be narrowed to one or two options before we commit to a referendum."

Antioch resident and Better Education,

Sensible Taxes member Vern Holmes, who plans to run for the school board next November, believes that a split school format would be more expensive than a single school format.

"The three split proposals would be much more expensive to the tax payer," said Holmes in a telephone interview. "Considering everything, the two, one-building proposals are the only ones that make sense."

However, Schley believes that the board has to consider everyone, not just Antioch, when making a proposal that will affect the future.

"Educationally, I feel that a one school format is best," said Schley. "But the split school proposals give something to everyone."

Already, the referendum, which has yet to be finalized, is off to a limping start due to criticism by BEST and some parents who claim the district didn't attract enough local voters to the two information sessions because they didn't purchase legal notices in any of the three local newspapers covering the district. Schley's administration did, however, release the dates and sites of the two public meetings nearly two weeks in advance of those meetings.

Despite the negative feelings about the public meetings however, Holmes did not rule out the possibility of a referendum passing, but that the building referendum had better be for an Antioch site reconstruction, not for a new school outside the village.

"ACHS is the anchor of our community," said Holmes. "We will not let the school district remove the anchor of the community from Antioch. The people have already spoken on two separate referendums that the school will not be moved from Antioch."

Holmes cites the fact that there were five more no votes than total Lake Villa Township voters in the last failed referendum as enough proof that another referendum to move the school will fail.

"I would like to see them destroy the older portions of the building and rebuild at the site," said Holmes. "The school must remain at its present site."

Schley responded to criticism about a possible move from the Antioch site by citing what is best for the students.

"We must plan for the future of the school district," said Schley. "I believe the growth in the area will be faster and more dense than has been predicted previously."

Letters to the Editor

School should stay Editor:

First, I feel sickened by the fact our senior citizens were not invited to the two invitation only town hall meetings. I feel I closely represent the 4,216 voters that previously voted no on the last failed Dist. 117 referendum for $32 million.

For the record, there were five more no votes cast in Antioch than the combined votes cast in Lake Villa and Lindenhurst. The voters of the district at that time were requested to move our beautiful high school out of town to Polley Field. Antioch Community High School is the anchor of Antioch and the anchor of the community. Under no circumstances will the citizens allow our school to be moved out of town to Polley Field.

The people have spoken on two separate referendums. First the cost was $29 million, then the second time it went up to $32 million and now jumped up to $36.4 million on Polley Field. The school will not be moved anywhere. It has been proposed by the architects of OWP&P that the 1915, 1927 and 1952 older sections could be demolished and the demolished square footage replaced by new square footage of equal size.

I am a Grabowski and the 4,216 voters that previously voted no are Grabowski's. Together we stand tall and firm in our mutual conviction that our school will remain in its anchor location. The school is still the foundation of the community.

In my opinion, this proposal to demolition and remodel should have been done years ago, but school board bureaucracy and the inability of the school board to make this decision have stopped positive progress. The school board has only been rubber stamps of the school administration and Stepford Wives decisions.

The overwhelming questions and comments provided by the almost non-existent Dist. 117 citizens, points to the fact the school must remain at its present location. The reason the citizens were not present was because they were not invited.

The architect, Mr. Andrew Mendelson, said the Polley Field site is land locked, and is only 50 acres.

If you can demolish and remodel for a few million dollars, who would vote to build a new $36.4 million school on Polley Field? The Polley Field site could either be sold off to pay for acquiring further acreage connected to the existing school site or retained to build a smaller, second high school.

The school board has a tough decision to make. Putting a referendum on the ballot for $36.4 million, or a referendum for a few million.

It's the taxpayers' money, it's the school board's choice. Do you think they can make the right decision?

Notice missing Editor:

Superintendent of School Dist. 117, Antioch High School, Dr. Robert Schley, informed me that when three or more School Board members meet, that such a meeting constitutes a school board meeting. Board meetings of a government body in Illinois are covered by the Illinois Open Meeting laws.

The meeting held Jan. 12 to present the April, 1993 attempt to build a new high school at Polley Field was attended by Dist. 117 Board members Ted C. Axton, Laurel J. Dahl, Alice A. Gantar and Larry Peterson, who ran the meeting.

No public notice was purchased by the district from the local press. The open meeting law for special meetings requires at least 24 hours notice, according to the Lake County State's Attorney. Dr. Schley told me it would be a "waste of taxpayers' money" to use overnight delivery services for $15 to notify the press, and hence the public, of a meeting discussing referendum moneys exceeding $36.5 million. Instead, he used a fax without follow up to see if it was received. It wasn't received. The "Lake Villa Record" received the Dec. 30 press release by first class mail on Jan. 6, too late for publication before the meeting.

During the meeting, new information critical to the November, 1992 referendum proposal was disclosed for the first time. It was infrastructure information. Initially, the architects designing the project refused to answer a sewer line question. Later, when asked again about the $2.5 million sewer line, they revealed an agreement with Painted Lakes Developers which would have made the new Antioch High School the water supplier (previously undisclosed) for the entire Painted Lakes development west of Deep Lake Rd.

New kids, long-timers ready for new term

The new kids on the block have been sworn in to begin the 88th General Assembly. Taking the oath of office, the newly elected have taken a collective firm stand to be more conscientious than their predecessors and "work for the people."

Lauren Beth Gash joined the other 117 members of House of Representatives in taking the oath.

"I'm glad inauguration day has finally arrived. This is a large freshman class and I think we are all excited about getting to work. I'm already working on legislation to help my district," Gash said.

Former Lake County Forest Preserve Board President Andrea Moore also began her term as state representative from the 61st District.

"The ceremony marks the beginning of what will prove to be an exciting year for the new legislators. I'm up to the challenges facing me during this coming legislative session," Moore said.

Senator William Peterson of Long Grove was sworn in said he was more than ready for the new start.

"I'm very excited about the challenges facing a new General Assembly under a new leadership. I am looking forward to working with my new colleagues and will continue to strive toward controlling state spending and balancing the state budget," Peterson said.

Representative Al-Salvi also made note of the occasion by recalling a bit of history.

"I'm proud, pleased and a bit humbled to join the Illinois House whose former members have included the likes of Abraham Lincoln. It is an honor to serve the citizens of the 52nd district," he said.

Others joining in the swearing in the ceremonies were Congressmen Phil Crane (8th Dist.), and John Porter (10th Dist.); State Senators David Barkhausen (30th Dist.), Adeline Geo-Karis (31st Dist.), and State Representatives Verna Clayton (51st Dist.), Virginia Flester Frederick (59th Dist.), Robert W. Churchill (62nd Dist.).

Nursing division nets grant

The Lake County Health Dept. Nursing Division has been awarded a Cardiovascular Risk Reduction grant from the Illinois Dept. of Public Health. This grant will fund the "Have A Heart" program which will provide clinical and education services directed toward reducing cardiovascular risks for high risk Lake County residents — low income residents and the elderly.

The program will focus efforts on detection and control of hypertension, cholesterol education and promotion of smoking cessation.

"Have A Heart" will coordinate efforts with existing LCHD services promoting the same goals. This grant replaces the previous hypertension program.

Third Lake study, meeting set

The Lake County Health Dept. will conduct an informational meeting to discuss its recent grant to study Third Lake at 7:30 p.m., Jan. 26 at the Grayslake Community Room, 151 Hawley St., Grayslake.

Interested individuals are invited to attend the meeting, which will discuss the scope and purpose of the study.

The $20,000 grant, which the health department received from the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, will be used to perform a Clean Lakes Program Diagnostic/Feasibility Study of Third Lake.

Based on information collected as part of a study, an analysis will be prepared to identify and evaluate alternatives for the restoration of Third Lake.

These alternatives will focus on improving water quality to enhance recreational and aesthetic use of the lake.

This grant is the second of its kind to be awarded to Lake County.

The first was awarded to the health department last year to perform a similar study on Sand Lake, for which numerous water and sediment samples have been collected and analyzed for contaminants. The Sand Lake study will be completed in December.

For more information on the grant or meeting, call the health department at 360-6747.

State aid stand-off

Chicago school reform must precede solving the Illinois education fund mess.

All the hand-wringing, study groups, task forces and scolding of legislators about the Illinois General Assembly's failure to provide for a new state aid formula for funding education isn't going to amount to a hill of beans until everyone gets down to the root of the problem---reforming the inefficient, patronage-ridden and corrupt Chicago public school system.

Responsible legislators simply aren't going to revamp the present system even with attendant property tax relief as long as public funds are going to pour into the never, never land of Chicago city schools controlled by the Chicago Teachers Union and supported by Democratic politicians.

Hard-nosed Republican legislators, especially those in the collar counties, are adamant about enhancing the Chicago revenue stream even to the extent of eschewing much needed property tax relief because they know too many dollars going to Chicago are siphoned off for non-educational purposes.

State Supt. Robert Leininger, co-chairs of the Task Force on Finance State Sen. Arthur Berman and former House member Gene Hoffman of Elmhurst, plus countless other school officials, pretty much are in agreement when they talk about the lack of funding, shifting educational funding away from local property taxpayers and making adjustments for regional cost differences. But they all dance around---or avoid---the lack of reform in the Chicago public schools that stands in the way of a fair and equitable solution.

True, there are many other school districts in the state with financial problems. And all districts suffer from improperly funded state-mandate programs.

To their credit, members of the task force produced a viable recommendation of a two-part funding system costing an estimated $1.47 billion with property tax relief replacement cost of approximately $348 million the first year. All school districts would benefit from this system.

Only it's not going to happen because of stubborn lawmakers in the suburbs who are tired of being put in the position of funding a Chicago gravy train. We can't say we blame them under the circumstances. What ever happened to school reform?

Power line foes insisting health issue unanswered

by BILL SCHROEDER

Always there's a cause. Only this time it's with a capital C---CAUSE (Citizens Against Un-Safe Electricity), the citizens group out to get Commonwealth Edison to abandon plans to string in the vicinity of homes and schools a power line neighbors consider unsafe.

"If we lose, I'll sell my home and move. And I'll tell people not to buy the house if they have children. The chance isn't worth it. That's how strongly I feel about this cause," exclaimed Tony Petrucci, the earnest and studious president of CAUSE.

Petrucci is leading a fight being put up by residents of Lake Villa, Lindenhurst, Loon Lake, West Millmore, Antioch and Round Lake Beach to carry their cause before the Illinois Commerce Commission, the arbiter in the controversy over construction of a power line from Round Lake Beach to the outskirts of Antioch along the Wisconsin Central Railroad right-of-way.

CAUSE workers have obtained stacks of damaging evidence that the electro magnetic field (EMF) created by the proposed power line will be cancer causing and result in leukemia problems. Petrucci shakes his head as he describes purported dangers created by high voltage lines. "I never thought I'd get involved in anything like this. Now I'm convinced the people are right in opposing the line. EMF is going to be the issue of the 90's," Petrucci reflected soberly.

Petrucci is convinced that ComEd will do everything possible to build the line as planned. He said the big utility went ahead and built a power substation off Rte. 83 south of Antioch even after opposition surfaced. "Only they say it isn't a substation. What is it? A $2 million storage shed?"

The resident of Lake Villa says CAUSE workers are frustrated because ComEd refuses to look at alternatives. "We're not against electricity. We all need power. But why can't ComEd put the line underground?" asked Petrucci. He said CAUSE has evidence that power transmission lines can be made safe with underground installation.

With power lines criss-crossing Lake County and running in all directions in urban areas, Petrucci said CAUSE is at a loss as to why safety questions have not been raised in other areas. CAUSE workers also are puzzled by the hard line ComEd has taken on the proposed extension.

Interested persons are invited to a meeting at 1 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 24, for more information on EMF and how it affects people who live near high voltage power lines.

JOB SEEKER---This time Jim Fields, former Lake County Board chairman and veteran supervisor, isn't asking, "Who is this woman?" Fields knows full well who Judy Martini is. Martini is out for any and every job Fields holds.

Last year Martini, a real estate broker, tried unsuccessfully to unseat Fields from the County Board. Now she's after his Antioch Township job. Martini, who has a hunger for public service, feels that Fields is vulnerable because of his support of riverboat gambling. Possible docking of the riverboats in Antioch Township has kicked off a hornet's nest of opposition.

Martini was incensed when Fields called a public meeting to air the merits of riverboat gambling---after casting a vote to site the boats in his township. "That took a lot of nerve. All he did was toss the people a bone. I decided right then and there to run against him again," declared Martini.

So far the outspoken distaff politician has sidestepped taking a position on riverboat gambling, calling it a moral issue and a question of "logistics." Martini said putting the gambling boats in Fox Lake "makes more sense." Martini serves as a commissioner on the Chain O' Lakes/Fox River Waterway Agency, a non-paid position.

QUITE A FOE---Old-time politicians always joke, "You can't beat Santa Claus," when they talk about doling out patronage or favors. That's exactly what an opponent will be up against challenging Gordon Kiesgen for supervisor of Grant Township in the April election. Kiesgen has been playing Santa Claus for 35 years in and around his hometown of Fox Lake, longer than he has served as town clerk of the township.

Dispute beneficial

Editor:

When teachers threaten a strike, most of us do not have enough information on the issues to decide who's right and who's wrong. We must rely on those teachers and the school board to negotiate in good faith to reach an equitable settlement that serves the interests of our children.

Many thanks to the teachers for being willing to take a firm stand on those issues which they felt diminished the quality of education in our school and for being willing to compromise their salary increases for the good of everyone.

Thanks also to the school board for their past, present and future efforts to keep Fox Lake schools financially sound when so many other districts are in crisis.

Though not as divisive as a strike, a dispute like this can sometimes cause lasting hard feelings on both sides, with each feeling that it lost. I would hope instead that all involved can put aside those feelings and regard the outcome as a win-win situation which both sides received something of value. I believe I speak for most of the community when I say that we appreciate the sacrifices made and we are confident that our children are in good hands.

It never has ceased to astound me just how polarized the deer issue has become regarding public sentiment as expressed at the recent open forum held by the Lake County Forest Preserve District. Differences of opinion that could be plotted along a 180 degree axis came from those who neither eat or wear animals to the extreme of boisterous declarations from a few whose desire to open Lake County Forest Preserves to bow and arrow hunting of deer elicited startled objections from the audience.

Great Lakes backers gird for battle over closure

by JAMES A. HOTHAM

Great Lakes VOICE (Volunteers Organized In Concerned Effort) has learned from friends in such places as Washington, D.C., Pensacola, Orlando, Memphis and San Diego that detailed plans are being formulated within the Navy to transfer the Great Lakes Naval Training Center Electronic Technician School to Orlando, to transfer the Fire Control School, and most ominously, to transfer the Recruit Training Command. The Recruit Training move is imminent, following a recent straw vote among high Navy officials. The vote was 10 to 1 to close the Great Lakes Command!

Most taxpayers would agree that it is practical to eliminate one of the Navy's three Naval Training Centers as the Navy cuts back its forces. But VOICE contends that it is not practical to close NTC, Great Lakes. The Center already has made great strides cutting costs while maintaining its superb record of quality training. And it is the ONLY training center with

The Navy is obliged to formulate plans for the best configuration of Training Centers to meet its foreseeable military requirements. However, members of VOICE are concerned that some of our global strategy leaders, being strongly seacoast oriented, may not be sufficiently aware of the big advantages already built into this training gem located out here in the heartland of America.

In fact, most admirals who have been in command of Great Lakes in the last 30 years have mentioned that, until they arrived here, they had no true conception of what Great Lakes really contains. So it would be understandable, but terribly shortsighted for national security, if the Navy's military and civilian number crunchers were to inadvertently overlook the unique characteristics of Great Lakes. We need to make sure they have the correct numbers.

The Navy, the office of the Secretary of Defense and the Base Closure Commission all need to be properly informed. And the united help of all surrounding communities can make a difference. Above all, the inter-city disagreements which surfaced during the Ft. Sheridan process, must be avoided. It sent mixed signals to federal officials. Let's make it clear, we need the Navy and the Navy needs to keep its historical and valuable grassroots presence in the midwest.

But there is not much time to get organized. Public Law 101-510 regarding Base Closures has established a rigid timetable. So time is the enemy. VOICE, having witnessed the Ft. Sheridan Process, is convinced that if the Great Lakes Naval Training Center is to be saved from extinction, the battle must be won in the next 45 days, and it is best won within the Navy Department.

Volunteers are needed NOW. Prefer-

Child care needs

Editor:

Over the last five years, several Lake County communities have re-evaluated their zoning ordinances regarding family child care homes. Libertyville's planning commission has most recently taken up this issue due to complaints regarding certain child care homes.

When the commission reviews its ordinances, we hope it considers several issues: Family child care is part of the fabric of support system for working parents. In a community with centers who have long waiting lists with few options for infants and school-age children who come home to an empty house, family child care plays an important role.

Family child care homes need to be licensed when more than three children come into a home for child care. The Dept. of Children and Family Services license these homes. A license means the home meets minimal safety standards. Responsible parents will interview a potential provider, visit the home, observe the child care setting and ask about qualifications, daily schedule, etc.

Responsible child care providers go beyond the minimal expectations of DCFS and seek training, CPR, First Aid, become active in provider associations and seek ways to provide a safe, nurturing and stimulating environment for children in their care.

Neighbors of family child care homes need to be informed by child care providers before child care begins to open lines of communication. Children cared for may very well be from the neighborhood. If not cared for by an adult, children may be prone to more mischief on their own after school. Most children under 10 years old are not mature enough to handle being home alone for several hours.

I encourage the Libertyville community to adopt a model ordinance that encourages licensing, supports families with children, meets the needs of the community and is not punitive toward family child care.

Commentary

adequate surge capability in case of a national emergency. In fact, without Great Lakes, the combined facilities at San Diego and Orlando do not have enough surge capability.

Great Lakes has been described by its detractors as old and obsolete. The fact is it contains some of the most modern, state of the art training facilities in the world, and much of its infrastructure has just recently been upgraded and modernized at considerable expense.

VOICE also learned that commercial interests in Orlando have engaged a consultant and have mounted an aggressive multi-thousand dollar campaign to tout advantages, if any, of Orlando over Great Lakes. Sadly, Florida political power seems to surpass that of Illinois, especially after we lost U.S. Senator Alan Dixon, who was an effective supporter of Great Lakes. Our U.S. Congressman, John Porter, of course, is working diligently with VOICE. But, being a member of the minority party in Congress, his power is limited.

Farmers vs. city slickers in April

POLITICAL FARMERS

A Farm Bureau slate has its sights set on Fremont Twp. offices in the spring election.

It is headed by supervisor hopeful Pete Tekampe. He's the outspoken past president of the Lake County Farm Bureau.

Joining him on the ticket are current township trustee Joe Titus. He's the current Farm Bureau president. Lining up behind the two are many other township incumbents.

Ready to oppose the "farmers" is the "city slicker" ticket. It's headed by Mundelein Trustee Patrick Wilson. In addition to being a village political fixture, Wilson served one term on the County Board.

This could be a great race in a township steeped in political history going back to former supervisor George Bell. The term of the last supervisor, Barbara Behm, is being completed by her husband, Fred.

ANOTHER BLIP

Tira Towne, the man about town in Mundelein/Fremont Twp., made big news in nearby Racine one year ago.

He proposed a $20 million harness-racing track on 107 acres of county-owned farmland along I-94 next to the Ives Grove golf course. Everyone thought it was a great idea.

The Racine County Board now has second thoughts. Without much activity and few words from Towne since last February, it has put the land back on the market.

Towne's excuse is that he needs a state racing license before sealing the deal. What has he been waiting for?

Illinois to make him a better offer?

SWANK SWEEP

If Supv. Ralph Swank & Co. are successful in the upcoming Libertyville Twp. election the pendulum will have completed its swing.

Swank came to power after 16 years of conservative, open-space F.T. "Mike" Graham. Graham was supported by such luminaries as Assessor William Swanson, Highway Commissioner Wayne Kick, Town Clerk Faith Boettcher-Sage and trustees Donna Elson, Dorothy Mosier and Roger Hartman.

Graham went four years ago. Going this year by not seeking re-election are Swanson and Elson. After 24 years Swanson is richly deserving of retirement. He has been good for Libertyville Twp. Elson has little stomach for politics, even after five-plus years.

Now on the Swank team are Boettcher-Sage, Hartman, Mosier and the former assistant assessor, Martin Paulson running for Swanson's job.

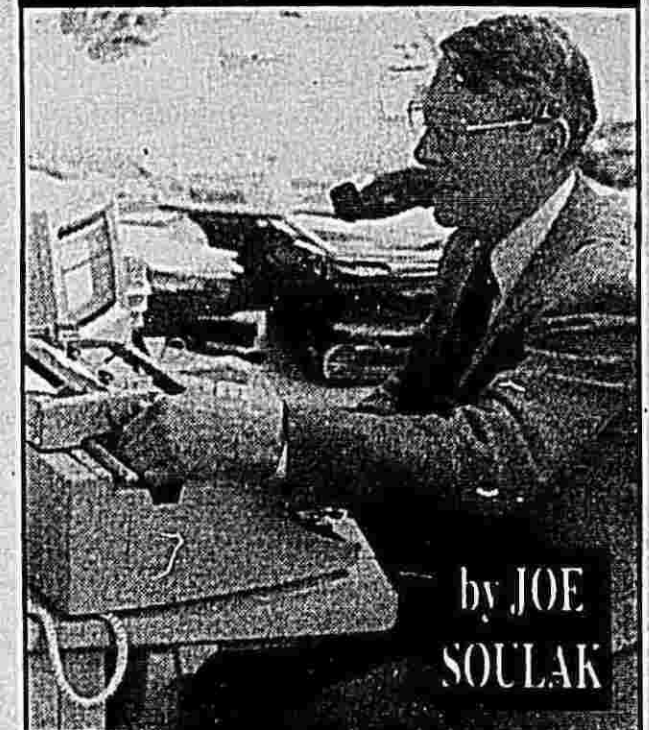

The jobs they're running for are filled, mostly, on a part-time basis. That's why they have other ones.

He was the main attraction several years ago when he and Gov. Jim Edgar first teamed up. For $18 tickets call Town Clerk Gordon Kiesgen at (708) 587-0371. MUNDELEIN—After 16 years a name almost synonymous with the village board is calling it quits. Trustee Ralph Rohling says his lack of stamina won't allow him to keep up with the new, younger crowd. Rolling came to office with then Mayor Colin McRae in 1977 and Village Clerk Colleen Kasting. Rohling prided himself in keeping the lid on younger, liberal Trustee Marilyn Sindles, now the mayor.

Laura Loffredo, hostess of Round-Robin Guesthouse Bed and Breakfast Inn, Mundelein, has her personal touch in all phases of the five-room establishment, one of only two B&B's in Lake County, from decorating distinctive theme bedrooms to playing piano music at breakfast. Laura says she promotes the lost art of conversation at the inn on Rte. 176, Mundelein.—Staff photos

Musical hostess sets B&B apart from others

by BILL SCHROEDER
Lakeland Newspapers

Round-Robin Guesthouse can lay claim to being a rare business enterprise in Lake County.

The turn-of-the-century two story home painted an eye-catching red is only one of two authentic bed and breakfast (B and B) establishments in the state's third most populated county with more than a half million residents and a well defined hotel-motel industry.

Lake County's 14 million visitors and tourists usually don't have much difficulty finding a place to stay. Only a handful of the visitors, though, enjoy the hospitality and homey atmosphere provided by Round-Robin located on bustling Rte. 176, Mundelein, a stone's throw from heavily traveled Rte. 45.

"Yes, it's true. There's only one other B and B in Lake County, a country place in Gurnee," remarked Laura Loffredo, the gracious, energetic grandmother who operates Round-Robin with her husband, George, a retired Waukegan school custodian.

The Loffredos turned the one-time home of one of early Mundelein's wealthy business families, the Tripps who owned and operated a lumber yard during the World War I era, into a stately structure offering a choice of five themed bedrooms, a parlor and music room where overnight visitors can relax and visit, and a bright, inviting dining room where they can enjoy breakfast before heading on their way.

"We decided to get into the B and B business on the basis of one overnight experience during a Michigan vacation. That's all it took," explained Laura, whose background includes teaching piano lessons, serving as a hostess for a welcoming service and employment as a clinical coordinator for Abbott Laboratories.

That was in 1987. Today they have a successful B and B with an international reputation and an occupancy rate the envy of famous downtown Chicago and Manhattan hotels. Round-Robin averages four reservations a night with a going rate of $60 per double occupancy. A good night's rest at Round-Robin is topped off by a hearty continental breakfast.

"Our rates are pretty modest, I guess, but we have no complaints," explained

Laura, who handles reservations, breakfast preparation and housekeeping. George keeps busy with maintenance duties.

What do you get for $60? The bedrooms are tastefully decorated in distinctive early Americana. There are private and semi-private baths. With names like Camelot, Beautiful Dream and Moonlight Sonata you know Laura is a romantic at heart.

"I always provide a special touch for newlyweds," added Laura with a smile.

For more masculine tastes there are the Stars and Stripes Forever with a colorful quilt, Civil War uniform and Lincoln bookends, and Yankee Doodle, featuring an open steamer trunk, a Spirit of '76 uniform and an antique double bed.

Twin-bed Moonlight Sonata is done in hues of pink and mauve. Peach-colored walls glow in Beautiful Dream which features a bay window. Camelot has a Victorian touch, brass bed and a private porch.

With these facilities, the Loffredos have attracted a clientele from 15 countries, including families that sometimes stay several weeks. Two actors from New York spent Christmas at Round-Robin while visiting relatives. Two employees from a Swedish company made the distinguished home their headquarters for two months while working at a plant in Libertyville.

Laura delights in describing the variety of visitors who can check in after 3 p.m. daily. Breakfast is served from 7:30 to 9 a.m. with tasty food accompanied by Laura's piano music, a pleasant touch you'll never get at a Holiday Inn or a Motel 6.

"When a couple with three little boys stayed three weeks while their new home was finished, I had to put away all my knick-knacks. It's not uncommon for all our guests to join for a nightly sing-along in the music room even though they can watch TV in the parlor."

Guests from Norway were in Mundelein during Halloween so Laura organized a pumpkin carving contest.

The home-like atmosphere and hospitality are the big attractions of a B and B, in Laura's opinion, besides the cleanliness and comfort of an attractively decorated room.

"B and B's are accommodations of choice. Guests get to know each other.

We encourage visiting," pointed out the dynamic hostess who said conversation is a lost art in America. "I always encourage our guests to introduce themselves. You'd be surprised how much fun they have getting acquainted with strangers."

Round-Robin isn't "heavy" with period furniture. The furnishings include a number of family photos and hand-me-downs. "Would you believe? Friends have donated or loaned a lot of our furniture," Laura mentioned. The Loffredos remodeled little upon acquiring the Maple Ave. place. Biggest expenditures were for a second floor fire escape and other safety devices required by village ordinance.

Laura Loffredo provides every room with its own diary where guests are invited to inscribe their remembrances before checking out. There is stationery in each bedroom. Laura does an original sketch for the letterheads and makes distinctive envelopes out of colorful magazine advertisements. She mails letters free of charge.

Satisfied travelers express their appreciation with return visits or recommendations to friends. One pleased couple from Russia presented the Loffredos with an authentic samovar which is positioned prominently in the dining room.

In a quiet way, Laura is breaking a trail in the hotly contested Lake County hostelry industry. Only she doesn't see it that way. "I love my home and I want our guests to feel like they have enjoyed a visit to grandmother's house." That's a winning philosophy and an invitation all wrapped up in one.

Round-Robin Guesthouse Bed and Breakfast Inn is open 365 days a year. It is located at 231 E. Maple Ave., Mundelein. Phone 708-566-7664.

Retirees can increase retirement income

by NICK J. BROWN

Interest yields on certificates of deposit and money funds are at historical lows and anyone on a fixed income is having a real problem today meeting current costs and not drawing down their capital.

The conventional wisdom has always been that if you lived on a fixed income or used your investments to provide part of your living expenses, you should use no more than the interest and dividends on your stocks, bonds and other income producing investments each year. However, with treasury bills yielding three percent or less, this has not been possible for many hard pressed consumers and investors.

The corresponding problem is that if you have to use the capital for current living expenses, a surviving spouse may not have enough money for proper support. With medical expenses out of control, an unknown hardship could occur.

There are a combination of tactics that can be used to solve or attempt to solve some of these problems. By using a combination of a wealth accumulation trust those funds provided by the estate of their grandparents. By repositioning your as-and reposition assets, it is possible to increase current income, provide for a surviving spouse, and maintain the estate for future generations.

With the soaring cost of college, the only way some grandchildren may be able to attend school is through sets and setting up proper trust arrangements, it can be possible

1. Increase your current income

2. Provide for your spouse after your passing

3. Leave a sizable estate for your children and grandchildren to provide for their education and medical needs

All of these issues and solutions will be discussed during a free series of seminars starting in January, 1993, that The Planning Group will be holding in the Chicagoland area.

Call Lana Zakon at 998-1640 for details on the locations and times of these seminars.

Nick J. Brown, president of The Planning Group, Glenview, Illinois, a financial planning and consulting firm that counsels individuals and business in all 50 states. Your questions are invited by writing to This Way To Wealth in care of this paper or to 2203B Lakeside Drive, Bannockburn, Illinois 60015.

RITZY KIDS

Gurnee businesses help tots look and feel at their best

Enjoying games

Derrek Seltzer enjoys playing with toys at Parents 'N Tots Discovery. Parents 'N Tots Discovery is located at Saratoga Square in Gurnee.

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Imagine your toddler in tip-top shape, getting a good start on fine motor skills and then later wearing the latest in children's wear.

The wait is over in Gurnee for that combination as Ritzy Kids, a children's clothing boutique and Parent 'N Tot Discovery have teamed efforts under one roof. Jacqui Miller, owner of Ritzy Kids, explained how herself and Sharen DeRose, owner of Parent 'N Tot Discovery, got together at the Saratoga Square shopping center location.

"I had moved into the first floor store and Sharon was a customer of mine," Jacqui Miller, owner of Ritzy Kids, said.

DeRose was looking for a location for a child care facility as she was taking care of children in her home.

Ritzy Kids, in its third year in Gurnee, caters to customers desiring special orders for special events, and customers call regularly for orders with delivery, which is usually within one week. Ritzy Kids has been featured in national children's magazines.

"People come from as far as Evanston. We put the emphasis on personal service," Miller said.

"The market is so wide open," Miller said of children's clothes.

Miller explained the latest trend in clothes is one which is three decades old. "We're going back to the 1960's look," she said.

Like adult clothes, clothes lines are ordered months in advance after being seen at shows. There are some 2,500 different lines of clothing to choose from. Long-time lines include Carters, Polly Finders, Ruth Schraf and Nannette.

Miller sees many benefits to having Parent 'N Tot Discovery in the rear of her store. "I'm giving exposure to her, and when her kids are back there I don't feel as alone," she said.

The two share mailing lists and events, including a visit from Santa Claus last month. While Miller works on orders, youngsters Nicole DeRose, Sharon's daughter, and Eric Grant are enjoying the climber at Parent 'N Tot Discovery.

"I got a lot of my ideas while working in Libertyville schools," DeRose, who has a speech pathology and early childhood educational background, said.

This is not a "drop-off" child care facility. Parents who come can expect to participate in the 55-minute sessions. In one area of the room, children may work on art projects; in another enjoy a game with plado or work on fine motor skills.

"Everything is for kids," DeRose said.

A survey done by DeRose showed a need for this type of activity for preschoolers.

Children are enrolled by age groups: 12 to 18 months; 18 to 24 months; 24 to 36 months and 36-48 months.

Age 12 to 24 months places priority on the child's new found mobility and encourages development in large muscle control and language skills. Ages 18 to 24 months continues to practice large muscle development and interaction skills. Finally, ages 24 to 35 months focuses on cooperation with others, listening skills, small muscle development and self expression.

DeRose holds an M.S. degree in speech-language pathology from Eastern Illinois University. Also, she is state approved for teaching developmentally delayed children. She has been an early childhood specialist-language pathologist for the past 10 years.

Store hours at Ritzy Kids are: Monday 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.; Tuesday-Thursday 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.; Friday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.; Saturday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Closed Sundays and holidays.

For more information on either Ritzy Kids or Parent 'N Tot Discovery, call 360-1222.

The business, in Saratoga Square in Gurnee, offers child development and parents a chance to participate. From left: Linda Pelozo, Kelly Pelozo, Zachery Hoffen and Derek Seltzer. ## Abbott search for treatment of BPH

Abbott Park—Abbott Laboratories announced it would be one of two companies to contribute to funding the first study comparing drug therapies for the treatment of symptomatic benign prostatic hyperplasia (BPH).

BPH is a common, age-related condition of the prostate which leads to symptoms that make urinating difficult and uncomfortable. It is caused by two factors: Enlargement of the prostate and contractions of the smooth muscles prominent in the bladder neck and prostate.

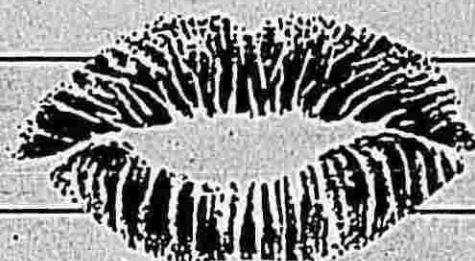

The study, funded by Abbott, Merck and the Medical Research Service of the U.S. Dept. of Veterans Affairs, will be administered through the VA's Cooperative Studies Program.

"This study is significant from a number of standpoints," said Paul N. Clark, senior vice president, pharmaceutical operations. "Non-surgical approaches are increasingly being considered as viable options for BPH treatment. This study will enable all the participants to look at a large BPH patient population for an extended period of time and help determine the role of drug treatment in managing BPH."

Patients in the study will receive one of four treatments: Placebo, terazosin (Hytrin), finasteride (Proscar) and terazosin plus finasteride. Approximately 1,200 men will be randomized into the double-blind, controlled trial. Study enrollment will last 12 months with patient follow-up lasting one year.

preach and preach at school and home about what's right and wrong. Yet, we put a casino in their backyards.

School, Politicians Bite Dust?

I see Mayor Welton and his town board ripped down the beautiful, old school on the corner of Hunt Club Road and Washington Street. Too bad we can't get rid of old politicians as easily.

Bring Boats To Town

You know what gripes me about this riverboat proposal? All these people that are against it, these do-gooders, are the ones sitting in Bingo parlors, playing the lottery, attending off-track betting parlors. I am sick of these people protesting the riverboat. I need a job and my kids need a decent school. This riverboat is good for the community and everybody else. I'm sick of a few vocal few ruining it for everyone else. I say we support this riverboat and bring it too Lake County, or we won't have a town.

My Mom's No Mafia Boss

I'm calling in regards to the casino they are thinking of building in Antioch. I think everyone should look forward to it. Just because gambling may come to our town, it doesn't mean our town will become a Las Vegas. It's how we handle things and the restrictions we put on them that will make the difference. I think that the opportunities to bring jobs and tourism are very important. If you are a person like me, it's very difficult to find a job here, let alone a decent paying job here you could make a living on. Most people can't make a living on $5 an hour. Maybe the casino would bring forth hotels and restaurants. Business may actually boom here. Casinos don't mean that the wrong type of people are going to be here. Some people automatically associate gambling with the Mafia. This is our community; we can put restrictions on the casinos. My mother goes gambling and she is no Mafia boss or prostitute.

Great 300, Ron!

To Ron, wonderful husband, father and son. A big, fat congratulations for that perfect 300 game you bowled Tuesday night at Fox Lake Bowl. You worked a long time for it and we are very proud of your accomplishment. This is your Hole-In-One. We love you. From, Spring Grove.

What Superintendnent?

I would like to know what's going on at Grayslake High School. We had a bad snow storm today and school started at its regular time. The kids, buses and teachers all struggled to get there. Then, the superintendent takes the day off because the roads were too bad for him to get there. How can that be?

You Might Get Business

I'm from Libertyville and I would like to know why all you people in Antioch don't want a riverboat casino. What are you afraid of? It's not going to ruin your town. Besides, having a riverboat casino might even make me come to your lousy little town. I've been to Antioch a few times, and it's nothing to be proud of. Take a gamble and welcome the riverboat. You might have a few people come to your shops and make something of that town.

More Room, Less Bumps

I just wanted to applaud and say how much I like the new parking spaces at the new Jewel-Osco, K-Mart parking lot in Round Lake Beach. The spaces are nice and wide so you can get groceries and children in and out of the car. This way, you don't end up banging or nicking the cars next to you. Not everyone has subcompact cars. I wish to commend the nice, wide parking places and hope that other businesses and malls will take note when they resurface and stripe their new parking lots. Thank you.

From Range To Frying Pan

I'm calling from Gurnee to respond to "Home On The Range" in the Jan. 15 edition. I would like to remind you that humans are animals, too, with the major difference being intellect and compassion. However, you certainly couldn't tell it from the message you left. You don't know if you've ever hit a deer in Lake County? That certainly tells a lot about your intelligence. Also, deer, indeed are capable of primitive thought processes and communicate well among themselves, just as all animal species do.

Salt Walks, Too

I'm a Fox Lake resident and I'd like to address the village of Fox Lake's streets and sanitation department. I don't drive and I'm a pedestrian. I've noticed that when the village of Fox Lake comes out after a snowfall, they plow the streets and then leave the flat mess on the sidewalks which becomes ice later on. Can't they have the common decency to salt the streets afterwards? It's not going to take that much money to salt the sidewalks after you're done plowing them.

Thanks For Helping Us

I want to thank all the people who helped me and my daughter after the car accident we were in on Jan. 16. The accident happened at about 5:30 p.m. on Rollins Road in Round Lake Beach. Special thanks to Round Lake police and fire departments, and also the girls who let me use their cellular phone. Also, I would like to thank Chrysler for their airbag system, for which mine inflated and helped save my life. Thanks to all of you, Shannon.

They're real!

This is for "There Is No Heaven." What planet are you from? It is clear that you are an unchurch person. I would love to see your face on judgment day. Heaven and hell are real. And this is for the person who likes pornography. You are sick, sick, sick!

Snow-Stuck Shoppers

I can't believe what happened in Vernon Hills the other day. More than three days after the largest snowstorm of the year, business owners had still failed to clean their sidewalks. I will stop frequenting their businesses until they get the snow and their act together. Thanks, Lipservice. You are doing a great job.

No Team; No Coach

I live in Lake Forest and this is in response to the people who are glad to see Mike Ditka leave town. I bet next year's season will be worse. Why? We all know that the Bears have no team. Now they have no team and no coach. Anyone can coach a good team, but it takes an expert to coach a bad team.

Half Full or Half Empty?

I'm calling in response to the person who said some people only see the negatives. This person is incorrect. Unlike this person, most people have looked at both sides of the issue, not just the money. To the crazy person who said that the riverboats will bring 1,000 permanent jobs, get the facts first. The fact sheet handed out by the investors states that the company projects that direct employees would total approximately 1,000 when both boats are operational. It does not state when they plan to have both boats operational, nor does it say that these jobs are permanent. Note the word, approximately.

Settlement Is Equitable

I'm calling from Antioch and I would like to thank all the members of the school board of Grass Lake for a united effort in negotiating a new teachers' contract. I know it took a lot of extra time and long hours to do so. These servants of these people do not get paid. One way we can show appreciation for their fine efforts, is to take time out of our busy schedules to thank them. Thanks to each and every board member for pulling together in order to offer the teachers and other staff members an equitable settlement. Also, thanks for the time and energy you constantly extend throughout your terms of office.

Grand Ave. Is Not So Grand

This is from Grayslake. The taxpayers of Grayslake are apparently not benefiting from the prosperity of Grand Avenue. Property taxes are higher than Grayslake. The town officials have turned a once environmentally-rich village into an urban slum with no apparent tax relief to their constituents. Even the pigeons under Rte. 41 and Grand Avenue know this and are leaving. Bigger isn't always better to the taxpayers or the pigeons — and who are the pigeons? I hope Grayslake residents take heed from your example.

Twinkie Lover?

In response to the ignorant person who wrote about Elvis and his stamp, I reply the following. I bet you don't know a thing about this great man. Don't be so ignorant. Know the facts before you open your mouth. You tell me what rock star as talented and saint-like didn't do drugs. Wake up, sir. Everybody as they age gains weight. What's the big deal with him gaining so much weight? If everybody had reasons to eat Twinkies, he did. What's wrong with being a Twinkies eater? Many adults are still that way. By the way, what do you do for a living that makes you so special?

Area "darters" compete in NIDA playoffs. Above, Rob Stanley eyes target, dart in hand.

Darts: More than hitting target

Even Steve Pavlin's best friends call him "dart crazy."

The one-time soccer player competes as often as four nights a week, owns several sets of darts, practices daily, and with wife Rita owns a darts and indoors-games shop in Antioch.

Set him in front of a dart board, and you'd better be playing to win. He will be.

Among the 250 members of the Northern Illinois Dart Association, Pavlin's intensity may be the exception. But not by much. For most "darters," the game may remain more recreation than all-consuming sport, yet like Pavlin they do pursue darts as far more than a diversion. Watching 100 darters compete at the NIDA's fall playoffs, for instance, you would have found men and women, the young and the old, the novice and the veteran with more on their minds than an easy-going afternoon.

"There are people who just play at darts, who are in the game just for fun. And that's OK," said Pavlin, captain of one of NIDA's 40 teams. "It's a game you can take as seriously as you want. You want to go someplace one night of the week, get out of your seat every few minutes for an hour or two, toss your three darts, then sit down again? Sure, there's a dart game out there for you.

"But you want serious darts?" he asked. "That's there, too. You bet."

Pavlin's competitiveness is an unavoidable part of the sport, explained NIDA president Roy Lavine. You may walk up to the throwing line the first time for fun, he said. But chances are that the second time you compete, you'll be playing to win.

"Good dart players probably won't give you any choice," Lavine said. "They'll be there to win, and unless you just like losing, you'll have to get good, too."

And for most darters, said NIDA vice president and 12-year dart player Julie McDowell, "getting good" takes some time: You practice and compete and then practice some more. The game really is easy to understand and enjoy, she insisted, and can be plain fun, if fun is all you're after.

But whether you plan on being a dart fan or dart crazy, McDowell cautioned, learn early that the game is far more than just "slinging darts at a bull's-eye."

"The game takes dexterity and know-how," said Lavine. "Dart competition seems off-handed only to people who don't understand what the sport's all about."

Placing darts on the dart board where you want them is about 30 percent of winning a game, Lavine explained, and takes a lot of hand-eye coordination. Then, there's knowing what shots you need, and when you need them.

"That's strategy, the other 70 percent of the game," he said, "and that's what usually wins games."

Most darters play some variation of either the standard "01" game or the game called "cricket," said Pavlin.

The "01" games go by such names as 301, 501, 601, and 801, each name indicating the total number of points with which each player (if a singles match) or each team begins a game. The first competitor whittling down that point count to zero wins the match. Most of such games must begin, and all of them must end, with a "double"—shots referred to as a "double-in" and a "double-out"—which requires the player/team to place a dart within a 3/8-inch-wide span of the circular board called the "double-ring," Pavlin explained.

Between those two shots, a darter tries picking up from one to 60 points a toss using combinations of shots that make use of the dart board's single-, double-, and triple-score target areas.

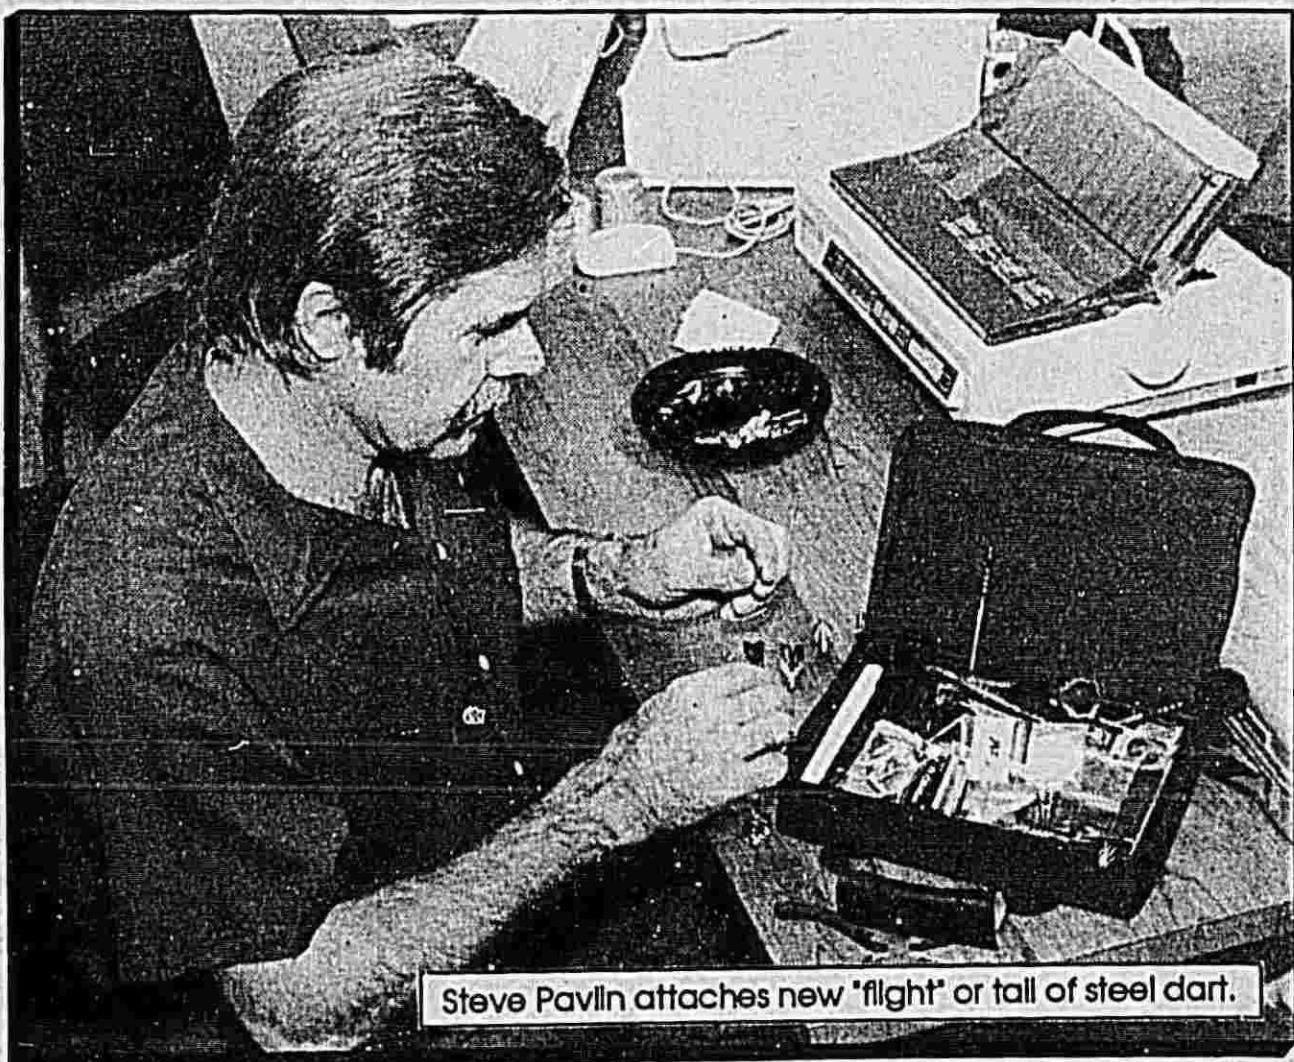

In cricket, players first must hit three times within target areas of 15 through 20, then score three bull's-eyes. The player/team first scoring that third of the three "bulls" wins the match.

"Look at a dart board as divided into 20 'slices,' like a pie sliced into 20 pieces," Lavine said, each slice carrying a point value of one to 20. Hit within that "slice" marked "5," (indicated on the outer circumference of the board) for example, and you earn either five points for a "single," 10 points for a "double," and 15 points for a "triple."

Skilled darters, he said, score high enough and soon enough to end a game in minutes against less experienced competitors.

McDowell said the NIDA accommodates both the serious and the casual player.

The association organizes competition among the NIDA's steel-dart and plastic-dart teams by skill level. Steel-dart competition—the more traditional class of dart play—takes place on Monday (Continued on page 18) nights, the newer plastic-dart competition for electronic darts matches on Tuesday nights.

The association's two 14-week seasons begin in early September, and in early January. Association matches include a tournament each spring to raise money for area charities.

Although taverns sponsor most NIDA teams—and most dart teams internationally for that matter, McDowell pointed out—anyone who's attended a NIDA match knows that its members consider darts very much a family sport.

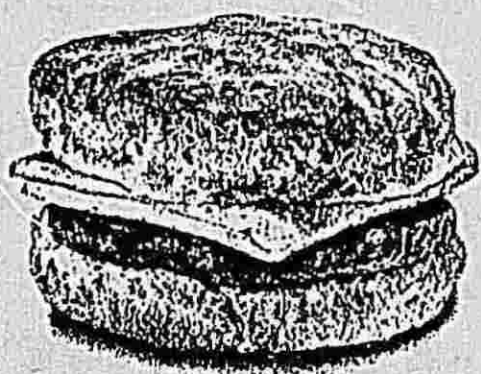

"If there's a game everyone in the family can enjoy," she said, "this is it."

That certainly seems the case.

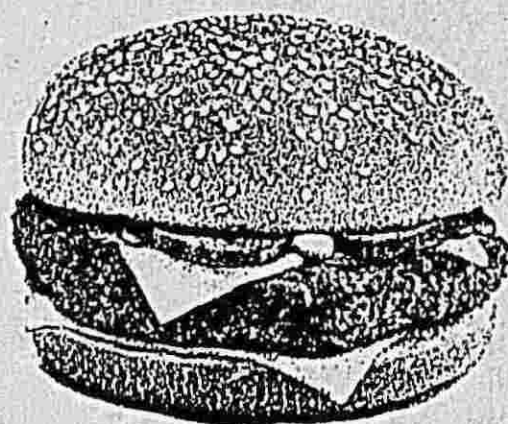

During the playoffs, a family or two competed as teams, and boys and girls joined scores of adult team boosters always sitting or standing at some competitor's elbow, sharing in a win or a loss, appearing as much a part of the game as the dart itself.

Pacino emotes, 'Scent' confuses

Al Pacino has long been considered one of Hollywood's finest method actors. Take note of the many Academy Award nominations he has received over the years.

In "Scent of a Woman," he turns in an emotional performance in a message-bound movie that serves to confuse more than enlighten.

Pacino is a blind and retired military officer who is being taken care of over Thanksgiving weekend by prep school student Chris O'Donnell.

O'Donnell takes on the care of the veteran as a temporary job.

Pacino immediately takes himself and the teenager on a weekend nightclub, etc. spree in fast-moving New York City.

Al Pacino

The film focuses on the vindictive depression of Pacino and the boy's moral dilemma and how the interfacing between the two affects both of them.

The very straight O'Donnell knows about a serious breach of school rules by fellow students and is being torn between doing the right thing in reporting them or refusing to rat on his chums.

In a confusing and sometimes unconvincing way, the film delves into Pacino's character, on the surface a hateful one, to unearth a gentler and righteous side that could help the teen solve his predicament. He is at the prep school on a scholarship and if he doesn't spill the beans he could be expelled and sent back to his meager beginnings.

Is Pacino's hard-drinking spiteful personality the real one or is he just taking out all his inner aggressions on those around him? The confusion arises in Pacino's supposed metamorphosis from monster to minister mainly because his considerable acting prowess has convinced the audience that his dark side predominates to the extreme.

This is not a happy movie, although Pacino's arrogance draws more than one chuckle. It is an emotional one, and many movie goers may have to be in the right mood to appreciate its value.

We give it 3.5 stars out of five based on the performances of Pacino and the talented newcomer, O'Donnell. —by GLORIA DAVIS

Kauai After The Hurricane

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Those of you who read my column regularly, know I have one very favorite Hawaiian Island. You can imagine how I felt when Hurricane Iniki passed right through my tropical paradise, the Island of Kauai.

At first I wasn't too concerned, though, since I was on Kauai the day after the last hurricane hit about ten years ago. While the damage was extensive, within a week most hotels and restaurants were open and things were almost back to normal.

That was Iwa. This time it was her big sister Iniki with 145 MPH winds and 30 foot waves to show what a Hurricane can really do!

Even now, 4 months after Iniki, many hotels are still not open. I have a list of the ones that are open and opening dates of others if anyone wants to give me a call.

When will Kauai be ready for visitors? Well, that depends upon the visitor.

If you are expecting to find an island where there is no shortage of tourist amenities, i.e. restaurants, gift shops, nightclubs etc., wait at least until next summer.

However, if your looking for beaches that are wider and sandier than ever, scenic valleys, lush forests, and maybe an unhurried round of golf, Kauai's landscape has also been reborn with even more natural beauty. Man may be slow to rebuild but not nature.

All but two of Kauai's golf courses are open with no waiting.

One last comment. Despite nearly 7,000 of a population of only 50,000 islanders losing their homes and despite over $1 billion in damage, there was no looting, no one went hungry or without shelter for long and there was no need for massive Federal help. The aloha spirit of these people made it natural to help their neighbor, and it's one of the reasons I keep going back to the "Garden Island".

LIPSERVICE

IT'S THE TALK OF THE TOWN

Lakeland
Newspapers

Animal Killer!

I'm responding to the person in Vernon Hills about the deer in Lake County. Yes, there is deer in Lake County. If you live Round Lake Beach, which I do, I have seen deer there late at night when I come home from work. You are some animal yourself. Why do you want to kill a deer? They are beautiful to look at, and they are not going to hurt you if you drive carefully, you person from Vernon Hills. You will see it and enjoy it too. Have a good day.

Love It Or Leave It

I would like to make a comment about the person who called in "Please Leave A Message" about Hainesville. Whoever this idiot is, every time somebody gets a ticket someplace, they go screaming that this is a speed trap. Hainesville is a nice, little town. And anybody who doesn't like it, they can use Washington Street.

A True Bear

For the guy complaining about Ditka being a whiner. You can't have a winning team if you don't have a winning team. If you don't have good players, you are not going to win. It's as easy as that. Ditka is the best coach we ever had, and always will be. He will always be remembered as a true Bear. I'm from Round Lake.

One-Sided Paper?

The Fox Lake Press is one of the most one-sided political newspapers I've ever seen. The other week, the good Dr. Dam got his two cents in about teacher's pay, again. Stating that he paid some teachers less per hour, than the teachers make. Good for you, Dr. Dam. You and some of your associates deserve less. What do you make per hour and where do you get the money to back a multi-million dollar project.

Haineslake Ain't A Town

I just moved to the Round Lake Park area. During the past few weeks a lot of people have been calling and putting down the town of Hainesville. The following week, there would be some caller from Hainesville disputing all these put-downs. I would like to say that on Rte. 120 in Hainesville, there is only one new development going up. It's right in the middle of Hainesville. When I stopped in there to see the new houses, their biggest selling point that they told me is that they are considered part of Grayslake. Now, if the new developers don't want to admit that they are part of Hainesville, why would should other people feel any differently?

Curve Ball To Basher

I would like to address this to "Blackmail Baseball In Avon." We received the same letter as well. Last year I mentioned to one of the people who run that organization that I didn't like my kid selling candy. I'd just as soon pay whatever it is they make for the box of candy, because I know it goes for a good cause. That's what I did this year and I don't have a problem with this. To the person who called, you seem like a person who would drop your kid off at the complex down there and doesn't offer to help at all. If you noticed in the letter, these people are practically begging you to participate and give them a hand. If you've got a problem with this, attend one of the meetings. You asked for comments, and this is what I had to say.

Stop And See The Snow

This call is from Ingelside. With everyone complaining about the snow and the weather, I wonder if any of you had stopped to see how pretty the trees and bushes are with all the snow on them. It's like a winter wonderland, even if it is tough getting through sometimes.

Not My Problem

I'm calling to respond to the person who complained about album lyrics. First, a question: Did you ever hear of Freedom of Speech. This is America and musicians are still allowed the right to express themselves. If you don't like their music, it's simple, don't buy the album. Secondly, as a manager of a record store, I will not refuse to sell music to anyone regardless of their age. It is not my responsibility to censor children; that responsibility lies with their parents.

Love It Or Leave It II

In regard to the person called "Deer Patrol." If you don't like Lake County's deer, why don't you just move out? People in Lake County like to see wild animals. I rest my case.

Simple Problem, Solution

I'd like to reply to "Please Leave A Message." You say you get pulled over for stupid and petty things like a broken headlight. If you want to know how you could stop this, why don't you fix your headlight?

Rocky Waves Ahead

Can you stand another riverboat casino call? I also am a member of ARC, and some people seem to imply that we are stupid and don't check with other counties and cities that have riverboat gambling. We have done that. It is morally wrong. I'm not a Bible-thumper, as some people think. I just think it's a bad thing for our home and lifestyle.

That's How It Works!

I have a response to "Return To Sender." You're right! Why would we put a drug abuser on a stamp and then idolize it. If you go to Gurnee Mills' McDonald's you'll see Liberace, who was gay and unfortunately died of AIDS. You'll see Marilyn Monroe who committed (Continued on page 46)

How To Survive The Job Search
By Nancy Sakol

Q: Dear...Search: I am a working mom who has been employed full time for the past 11 months with the same company. I offer support to three sales professionals and enjoy what I do for the most part. I have a respectable salary and excellent medical coverage. Before the holidays started, I found myself starting to get stressed out and overwhelmed with trying to balance my job, family and all. I approached my employer on a Friday, asking him if after the first of the year, I could cut down my work week to four days per week instead of the five I now work. I felt this would allow me the extra time to catch up on this balancing act that I have created for myself. My employer asked me if I had already made up my mind that this is what I would like to do. I said that I had felt that it would be good for me. He said he would take our conversation under advisement. The following Tuesday, much to my surprise I found out that calls were coming in on an ad that was running in the local paper for my position. I immediately went into my boss and asked what was going on. He explained that unfortunately, I was hired to work a standard five day 40 hour work week, an agreement that I have told him I feel I can no longer hold to. Therefore the company felt it necessary to find someone who can. Now I am unemployed. I have been turned down for unemployment benefits because the company said I was unable to fulfill the employment agreement I entered into with them. Can they do this? F.D. - Zion

A: Dear F.D. Since you have already heard that you have been turned down for unemployment, possibly so. You do have the right however, to appeal the outcome with an appeals officer. Check with the unemployment advisor that you met with and find out how to go about that. I have to say that I understand the position your former employer was in. If every full time employee came to them saying that they need a day off per week, who would get the work done? The other situation you may not have taken into consideration, should your company have accepted a four day work week, you may very well have lost all benefits with them as it is common for companies not to offer standard benefits to part-timers. You may want to re-think your future needs in the home and workplace and decide before going into a new job, if you desire to work full or part time. If you feel you need the flexibility, you may even consider working temporary assignments until such a time when you are not feeling so overwhelmed. Good luck to you.

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee. Letters can be sent to Nancy c/o Lakeland Newspapers, P.O. Box 268, Grayslake, IL 60030

CRISTO
OVERALL DIMENSIONS: 64'-0" X 54'-0"
LIVING: 1733 square feet
GARAGE: 696 square feet
CRISTO (332-221)
By Landmark Designs, Inc.

Handicapped accessibility is built right into this plan, starting with the ramp onto the railed front porch. Doors are extra-wide throughout.
But this single story home is also well-suited to the needs of young families, grandparents who like to keep space for visitors, and singles who want lots of room to spread out. And if the ramp isn't needed, a long planter could take its place.
A row of skylights at the back bathes the kitchen, nook and sun room in rich, natural light. Sliding glass doors in the nook and sun room add to the illumination and provide access to a deck. Meals can easily move outside when warm air beckons. The sun room can be built as either a screened porch or outfitted with windows and screens.
The kitchen is not cut off from the rest of the group living space. This allows individuals involved in cooking or clean-up to participate in whatever is going on. Range, oven and dishwasher are built into the counters, and a large walk-in pantry provides additional storage space.
Light from the sun room spills over into the master suite through another set of sliding glass doors. Singles or couples without children can leave these doors open, if they wish, and use the space as a sitting room, off the bedroom. Toilet and tub are skylit and separately enclosed in the master bathroom. The basin is tucked into an alcove in the dressing area in front of the walk-in closet.
Two more bedrooms share a bathroom on the other side of the house. The small laundry room is brightened by a large window and has built-in cabinets over the appliances.
A long work bench spans the entire left side of the two-car garage. The fully enclosed storage room at the back helps keep cumulative clutter organized, and can be locked as well.
Of course, more storage is available if the CRISTO is built over a basement. And there's also room for expansion in the high peaked attic that extends over most of the house.
For a study plan of the CRISTO (332-221), send $7.50, or for a plan book featuring all of our 1992 DREAM HOMES, send $6.00, to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number when ordering).

Natasha's Stars

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Reach out for what it is you want — you're entitled to it. Refuse to let another walk all over you. You may need to spell it out for another this week. By responsible action and communication, you make it happen.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Get in close this week while you still can. Events may have you tilting at windmills, or you could just split town. In any case, the rule of thumb this week is make hay while you can. You will be a force to be dealt with this weekend.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Others carry the ball this week. Expect a close encounter which can be about money, power or love. Expect a partner to play into your plans in a most interesting manner. Do claim your power and make the choices that you want to make.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Build on existing frameworks and know what it is you need and want. Get as much work done as fast as you can. Distraction appears big time and you are still able to make time for it, but only if you've been staying up to date everywhere else.

LEO (July 23-August 22) You enter the week far from enthusiastic about work. Trust you to find some distraction from the old "9 to 5." Work could prove interesting, if it involves some socializing, and very interesting if you carry it into the weekend.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22) Understanding is half the game this week. Your more playful, energetic, wild and woolly side comes out, but be prepared to pay the piper. You need to understand more about what is expected of you, especially at work.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22) Reverse direction and be clear as to what you feel is necessary. Initiate long overdue conversations at work, with loved ones, and with those who play into your day-to-day life. Settle in to stronger values and choices. Count on luxuriating and enjoying yourself this weekend.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21) Get to the bottom of a problem and look at what motivates you to be so possessive. Your understanding is enormous, and you are likely to reverse a situation by changing your attitude. Communications are hot this week.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21) Make the most of your glowing, happy and wonderful personality. Your attitude changes considerably because of what is going on. Go for what you really, really desire and need toward the weekend. Then expect a busy few days.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19) Don't be bewildered by what is going on, and please try to understand another's weird behavior. You feel better by the weekend and really can hardly remember what went on earlier. Honor who you are, and stand firmly next to an idea or desire.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18) You are on a roll this week, and things really perk for you. Count on many a mood change, some moping around, and finally seeing a situation for what it really is. Whatever you say or do works.

PISCES (February 19-March 20) Handle an "important" person with kid gloves. You may feel as if you have done and seen enough. Answer to another and gain a better understanding of who they are. Be careful about a too-carefree attitude midweek. You may pay for it this weekend.

Lake Zurich native takes a shot at playing in the Big 8

by RHONDA VINZANT
Lakeland Newspapers

At 18, Lake Zurich resident Michelle Canzolino is certain about at least two things in life.

Her major: computer science and electrical engineering and her love of playing basketball.

A walk-on candidate on the Iowa State Women's Basketball Team, she plays guard for the Cyclones.

Canzolino, a graduate of Carmel High School, was an 1991 second-team all-area selection as well as a 1991 all-Girls Catholic Athletic Conference selection averaging 18 points and seven rebounds per game her senior year as well as six steals.

"I came to Iowa State because of its well-known academic excellence in the study of engineering," said Canzolino. "I was planning to run track but basketball is what I love so when I heard they had a spot on the team, I took a shot at it." She made the cut, despite the fact that she had sat out the majority of her senior year due to a knee injury.

At Carmel, Canzolino was a three-sport athlete earning eight letters in basketball, volleyball and track.

"I've always loved basketball," she said. "It is a sport where girls can get physical. It's exciting."

Canzolino says playing basketball is the treat that balances out her tight-double major schedule. "Basketball on the college level is a lot more physical and demanding than in high school," said Canzolino. "It's a lot of effort and a lot of time. It cuts out much time for a social life but if you love it, you should play on the college level."

Carmel Coach Scott Green is not surprised to see Canzolino on a college roster. "She was an impact player," he said. "She is someone who could come off the bench and get a quick steal. She brought intensity to the floor. There is room for that on any team."

Canzolino says the highlight of her college career so far has been the Cyclones' win over Montana State. "With four seconds left in the game, we came back to win," she said. "It was my first win since being injured in high school and it meant a lot. I'm exciting about playing the Big 8 Teams. We've had a lot of obstacles to overcome as a team but we're pulling together and pressing on."

She is the daughter of Loretta Canzolino of Lake Zurich and Joseph Canzolino of Chicago.

Culotta, Bulldogs listen, learn, gain first-place tie

Tim Culotta

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Whether it be with his older brothers in his backyard, at practice, or during a key Northwest Suburban Conference game against the top rival, one thing is certain about Tim Culotta.

Grant's 6-3 senior forward is a good listener.

"Coach told me to square up more," Culotta said of his three-point shots. He buried two in key situations which allowed the Bulldogs to hold onto a 54-49 win over Round Lake the win puts both teams in first place at 6-1 in the league.

Culotta went on to score 12 of his 14 points in the second half. Grant (10-6 overall) is at Marian Central Jan. 22 while Round Lake (10-4) hosts Wauconda in 7 p.m. games.

It was the first time the Bulldogs had downed the Panthers in Culotta's career. That was something Culotta probably dreamed about when he started in the sport as a fourth-grader in Fox Lake. "We were psyched," Culotta said.

Culotta came into the game with 30 three-pointers.

"We devoted 15 minutes of practice time each day to Round Lake. Maybe that got us better prepared than we were the first time," Grant Coach Tom Maple said.

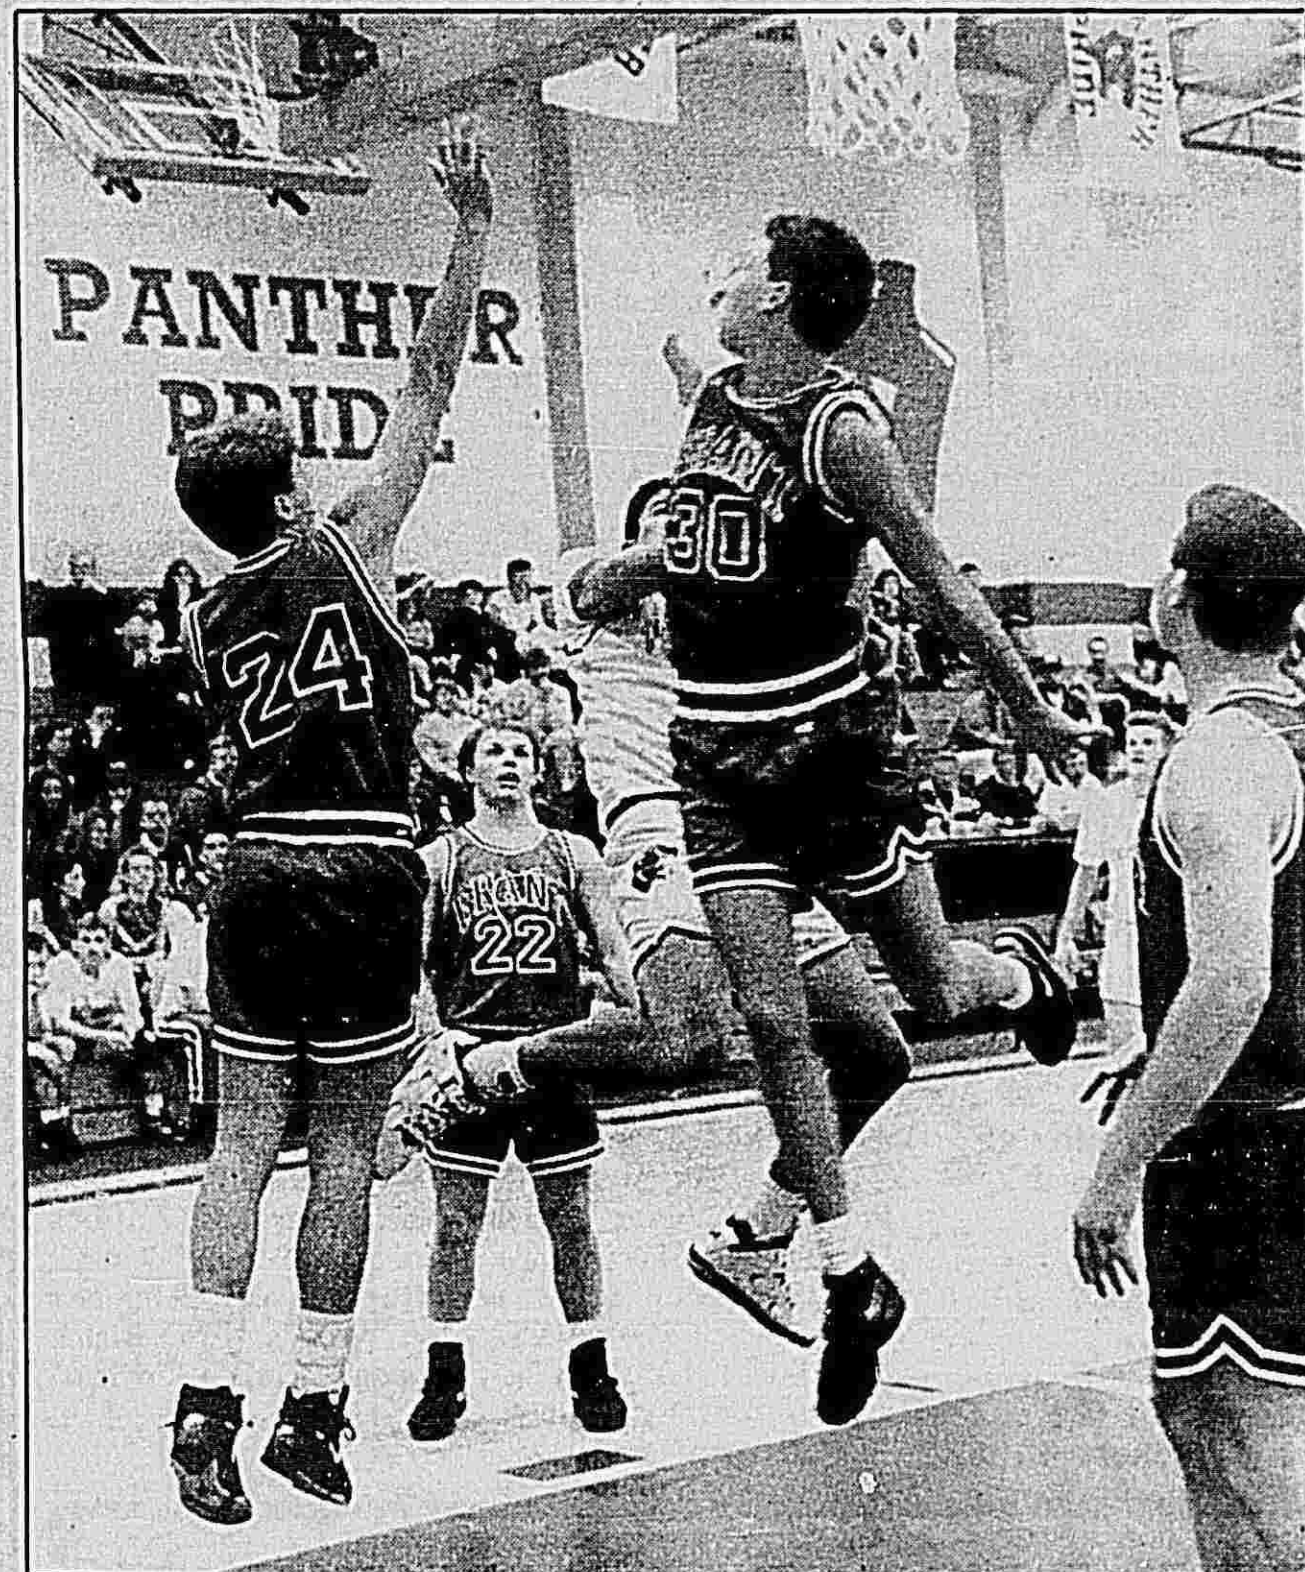

Round Lake nearly erased a 12-point second-half Grant lead, as the Panthers had whipped out a seven-point lead in the first meeting.

"We did not shoot the ball well. Once you miss a couple of those two-or-three point shots, it avalanches," Round Lake Coach Bob Ward said. "Our post kids had some good shot opportunities but could not convert."

"We ran some effective offense against what they ran against us as opposed to the second half of the first game," Maple said.

The Bulldogs received 13 points from Kurt Filiatreault. The junior was the first-half story, as he scored nine points and Grant maintained a 25-19 lead.

Round Lake was led by 20 points from Ben Buchanon.

Round Lake's Ben Buchanon finds his path to the basket stopped by Grant defenders. Leading the effort are: Lou Notriano (22); Kevin Witchell (24) and Kurt Filiatreault. Grant won 54-49, forging tie for first place in Northwest Suburban Conference.

Warren focuses on season after Bader wins No. 300

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

It was not the kind of game which would rival sectional title wins a few years ago over Deerfield and Waukegan East. Not even close.

But Darrel Bader was nonetheless smiling after Warren survived a 36-35 game against Fenton. The win gave the long-time Warren mentor his 300th career victory.

Warren reached the .500 mark with the win, which culminated a double-victory weekend for the Blue Devils. "I try and adapt every year to the material," Bader said.

Bader, a graduate of Waukegan High School, played center for the Bulldogs. He has a 300-151 record at Warren since taking over in 1976-77. The high-water mark came in 1987-89 when two Warren teams both advanced to the Sweet Sixteen. Warren has reached the 20-win mark seven times during Bader's years and advanced to the sectional final each of the last three seasons.

He credited having two long-time assistant coaches, Len Chimino and Ron Shelton, as keys to the successful program. (Continued on page 38)

League leaders, new rivals await Carmel contingent

If the trend in the second half of an East Suburban Catholic Conference game against St. Joseph continues, then Carmel basketball fans may see more of Tom Drennan, Mike Raddling, Landon Rose, Mark Bitto, Bob Glazik and Bayyan Foster. The four juniors and Foster finished the final minutes of a 61-55 loss to St. Joseph.

"The most encouraging thing was the play of the last five guys on the bench," Carmel Coach Scott Rosberg said.

The group of five juniors and senior Foster sparked Carmel to a 20-11 fourth-quarter run which nearly pulled the game out. Rosberg views Carmel's style of play was a different as the two results as CHS blitz Holy Cross 72-63.

"I scouted St. Joseph and they are not as big or dominate as they usually are. We made them look that way. We came out scared. We were down 8-0, 8-2 and then 20-2 in the first quarter. Rosberg knows the importance of the weekend at hand. Carmel (2-4, 5-10) hosts undefeated league leader Marian Catholic before traveling to Libertyville for a Jan. 23 contest.

"Normally, the conference game is more important but this year, where we stand in the conference (eighth place), a win over Libertyville would speak volumes for us going into the seeding meeting (Jan. 25). This weekend is the most important weekend of the year. Two losses would be very detrimental to us and a split would be so-so," Rosberg said.

"Against Holy Cross, we came out with a chip on our shoulder. We established the tone and took the lead by playing with (Continued on page 38)

Bader

He was influenced by Waukegan Coach Jack Miller and Indiana University coach Bobby Knight.

Mundelein Coach Dennis Kessel won his 300th career win last year. Most of his wins came at Oregon, but all of Bader's victories came at Warren. Ryan Taylor led Warren with 18 points against the Bison. "Ryan has been playing very well," Bader said.

Fenton's zone defense made Warren play its style of game.

Warren had downed Zion-Benton 76-68 the night before. Taylor scored 28 in that contest.

Carmel

such energy, intensity and heart," Rosberg said.

Jermaine Williams did not start against the Crusaders as he was nursing an ankle injury. He proved a valuable reserve, scoring 26 points. Curt Salata hit four three-point shots and Carmel raced to a 23-6 start.

"Curt had a big first quarter. He got us going. But what made the difference was the attitude at the defensive end. We got to pressuring and we got a lot of our offense off our defense," Rosberg said.

Rosberg and Co. are looking forward to the upcoming tilt with neighbor Libertyville.

"We're glad to get the series started again. In the old format, the only time we could play each other was at regional. This is what high school basketball is all about," Rosberg said.

Libertyville reached .500 at 8-8 and gained two North Suburban Conference wins last week. The Wildcats are led by senior guard Matt Heldman and inside player Jamie Carruthers.

"Heldman and Carruthers are their two keys, but other guys are stepping forward," Rosberg said.

Mustangs looking to extend streak against Wildcat rivals

by RHONDA VINZANT
Lakeland Newspapers

If the Mustangs can play tough against Stevenson, Libertyville and Lake Forest on their home court in the coming weeks, they will be strong contenders for the North Suburban Conference Title.

"We need to concentrate," said Coach Dennis Kessel. "The three teams we need to catch we play at home. If we do well against them, it'll put us in the position to do something in the conference. We can't afford to lose two conference games to front runners at this point if we going to stay on top."

The Mundelein team is coming off a weekend where they posted their seventh win in a row. The team defeated Antioch, Jan. 15 at home and then upset Stevenson 82-72, the following day handing the mighty Pats their second conference defeat in as many days.

"Our kids did a great job against Antioch," said Kessel. "Everytime Antioch came close they took the lead back." Junior stand-out Kyle Kessel had 38 points in the game.

Meeting the Pats on the court, following their defeat by Lake Forest who is now ranked first in the conference with a 7-1 NSC record, the Mustangs sparked by Matt Brua, Gerald Coleman and Thad Miller controlled both ends of the floor.

"They played Stevenson like a team that wouldn't be denied," said Kessel. "These kids are playing pretty well. Don't judge us by our last game, judge is by the one that is coming up."

The Mustangs are strong on offense with junior point guard Kessel averaging 20.5 points per game and Miller, Brua and Coleman each averaging 15 points or more a game. Brua is the only senior amongst the powerhouse line-up ensuring that if the Mustangs fall short of grasping the conference crown this year, they'll be

'They played Stevenson like a team that wouldn't be denied. These kids are playing pretty well.'

—Coach Dennis Kessel

front runners next season.

The team takes on rival Libertyville, 6-2 in NSC play, Friday, Jan. 22 at home.

"Libertyville beat us last time," said Kessel. "All we want to do is play hard. If we do that, we are capable of beating them."

The Mustangs are 5-3 in the NSC play and 10-6 overall.

MHS girls look to regroup, Pats set for first-place test

Mundelein's girls basketball team bounced back from a shellacking it took at the hands of the conference leaders, but the result was the same as the Mustangs fell to Stevenson and Libertyville.

Mundelein lost to Stevenson 51-28 as the Patriots won for the 14th straight time. Stevenson won No. 15 in a row again giving up just 28 points in a 56-28 win over Zion-Benton. The Mustangs were putting a scare into Libertyville before falling, 45-37.

"I'm very pleased. We out-rebounded them by 14 and the intensity level was real strong," Mundelein Coach Rick Foss said.

Lindsay Prezell and Lynn T'Niemi, both sophomores, led the way with 12 points each. Kelly Karl saved the day for the Wildcats (13-5, 6-3) with 16 points. Mundelein dropped to 6-11, 2-7 with the two losses.

Libertyville's six-foot center Sarah Weiss had 12 points.

Libertyville erased a four-point Mundelein lead with a big run at the end of the first half for a 24-17 half-time margin. Lead reached double digits in the third quarter.

But Mundelein regrouped for the second half, as the Mustangs tied the game with a minute left. "They got a turnover and converted that and a basket," Foss said.

Mundelein hosts North Chicago Jan. 23 at 2:30 p.m. Libertyville is at Zion-Benton.

League leader Stevenson (17-3, 9-0) continued its pace.

After pasting Mundelein, the Patriots were led by Tauja Catchings' 13 points while Katie Coleman had nine and Danielle Mall seven in the win over the Zee-Bees. Mall had led the Pats with 13 points against Mundelein. Tina Stops had 10 points.

Stevenson faces Fenton Jan. 23 at home at 2:30 p.m. The Bison became the challenger to the Stevenson lead when they knocked off Warren, claiming second place.

Elsewhere, in the Northwest Suburban Conference, Wauconda downed Grayslake 54-40. It marked the second Bulldogs win over the Rams. Wauconda (8-9, 4-5) broke the game open with a big second quarter push. The Bulldogs were led by Kathy Clark with 18 points, Michelle Nuspl had 12.

Allinson Waldenstrom, who averages 18 points a game for Grayslake, was held to 10 points and was the only Ram to reach double figures.

Mundelein's Lindsay Prezell (10) tries to defend against Stevenson's Tina Stops. Stevenson won North Suburban Conference game handily, 51-28. Stevenson's Danielle Mall (30) looks on. Stevenson hosts Fenton Jan. 23 at 2:30 p.m. Mundelein is at Zion-Benton.—Photo by Gene Gabry.

Freund's 27 paces 'Hawks

All it took was a couple of "W's" and the monkey with lingered over Johnsburg is now looking for work.

Johnsburg, behind 27 points from Todd Freund, blasted Wauconda 64-49 for its first Northwest Suburban Conference win. A 1-6, 5-9 overall record may not be much to write home about, but it was better than going 0-for-December.

"I think we're starting to come together. When we lost eight in a row, it was like a ton of bricks had fallen on us. The first half of the season was a nightmare," Johnsburg Coach Jeff Lewiston said.

The Skyhawks took their frustrations out on Richmond-Burton before using a 22-11 third quarter run to down Wauconda Friday. The wins give Johnsburg a two-game winning streak, ironically its second streak of the season. The Skyhawks host Grayslake at 7 p.m. Jan. 22. "We were able to extend our defense and cause problems. I thought defensive intensity was the key before the season and that would make us or break us. Early, it broke us," Lewiston said.

Johnsburg, in addition to Freund's heroics, received 11 points from Jeff Loser and 10 from Rob Fehling.

Wauconda was without leading scorer Cory Kazimour. The 5-11 junior guard sprained an ankle.

"He has a severe sprain. He will be out more than likely this week. We're eight deep and getting thinner," Wauconda Coach Gary Rajkowski said.

The Bulldogs (1-6, 6-9) are looking for juniors Kurt Vanalstine and Bill Ford to pick up the slack. Chris Merkner, a 6-1 senior forward, came in and played well, Rajkowski said.

"He has worked on his shooting. He's always done a nice job on the boards," the coach said of Merkner.

Wauconda is at Round Lake Jan. 22 in a 7 p.m. game.

"Round Lake (6-1, 10-4) will be difficult for us. There are some teams we can play competitively with and others we will have to play excellent against. Round Lake is one of those teams," Rajkowski said.

Defense, Heldman provide potent Wildcat weapons

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Following a five-point loss to Warren, Libertyville Coach Max Sanders lamented about his team's lack of defensive intensity.

Nothing that a "fun" win over North Chicago and an overtime upset of Lake Forest would cure, though. The Wildcats reached .500 overall, 8-8, and 6-2 in conference play with an 81-62 win over North Chicago followed by a 74-71 overtime win over Lake Forest. The wins leave Libertyville still in contention, tied with Stevenson for second place.

"I think we worked real hard on defense the last two weeks and now it paid off for us. We had a real good game against Waukegan before the Christmas tournament, for some reason we lost confidence, that was due to lack of defensive intensity. We got that back this weekend," Sanders said.

The Wildcats received a 49-point two-game effort from guard Matt Heldman. Heldman, a senior, scored 22 in the 81-62 win over North Chicago then 27 in the win over Lake Forest.

Libertyville faces the hottest team in the conference at Mundelein Jan. 22 before battling Carmel at home the next night in a Route 176 series. Mundelein has won six straight games.

"In the second round of conference play, we will have to be playing with consistency and not have big highs and lows," Sanders said. Mundelein beat Antioch 89-72 behind 38 points from Kyle Kessel then used a balanced attack to beat Stevenson by 10.

Jamie Carruthers had two strong games, including knocking down the clutch free throw to beat Lake Forest. He had 15 points against North Chicago, 14 against the Scouts.

"Carruthers has been doing an unbelievable job. Not only point wise, but also defense and rebounding. He is our unsung hero," Sanders said.

The Wildcats overcame a nine-point first-half deficit to beat the Scouts. A 19-9 Libertyville run in the third quarter gave the home team the spark.

The Wildcats "held" the Scouts star, Rico Stringer, to 17 points.

"He has a great move to the basket. We put Jamie behind him and dropped the guards down low. We thought he was not a good free-throw shooter, so we tried to foul him" Sanders said.

The supporting cast got in more playing time than usual against the undermanned Warhawks.

Carmel gymnasts prepare to take on field at Niles W.

If it's Saturday, it's time for another "fun" invitational meet for the Carmel girls gymnastics team.

Fresh off a championship at Lake County invitational with a meet record 104.6 points, the Corsairs are at Niles West Jan. 23. This is the first time Carmel will be at Niles West.

"This should be a fun meet as well. They have themes and you are judged as far as you reflect that theme," Norb Bendixen, Carmel head coach, said.

The theme for the day at Deerfield was pitching in, as several gymnasts took of the slack due to Bea Selz's injured elbow.

"One of the touching moments of the meet came when Jenny Snell and Sarah Mikrut shared first-place in the floor exercise. These are two good friends who have totally different styles," Bendixen said. Both competed at the Gymnastics Spot in Mundelein.

Eme Cole of Carmel with a 9.25 and Mikrut with a 9.2 finished one-two in the all around with Snell of Mundelein taking a third place with a 9.1.

With defending state champ Carmel setting the meet record for points, the race was on for second. Stevenson and host Deerfield tied with 104.6 points. Mundelein was next with 101.7 followed by Libertyville's 99.5; Lake Forest and Antioch with 95.2s; Highland Park 93.6;

all-county 90.3; Lake Zurich 87.9 and Waukegan 81.9.

Snell and Jennifer Torres of Barrington shared top honors in vault with a 9.2, followed by Cole.

"Jamie Wegener did a nice job on the balance beam," Bendixen said of the event champ.

"Snell carried us," Mundelein Coach Pam Kennedy said of her team's performance.

Heavyweight duel decides Fremd-Round Lake meet

A battle royal between Round Lake heavyweight Ray Estrada and Fremd's Chris Pierkong was the deciding factor as the Panthers dropped just their fourth dual meet against 12 wins.

Host Round Lake took on Zion, Stevenson and Fremd in a six-team, multiple-dual meet Saturday. The other two teams competing were New Trier and Hinsdale South.

The Panthers topped Zion 51-21 and Stevenson 45-23 before falling to Fremd 36-32.

In the heavyweight match, Pierkong pinned Estrada with one second left (5:59) to cop the team victory for Fremd.

"We put some other kids in the lineup (against Fremd)," Panther coach Bob Curran said. "We had three starters out and we just didn't have enough."

Some of the Panthers had enough to improve their already fine records, though. Mike Cardwell is 12-4, Mike Kukla is 26-2 and Justin Zdeb is 12-0. Gary Bailey lost his only match of the day but still stands at 17-7. Rusty Nofsinger (22-2) took the day off.

Curran said multiple-dual meets like last Saturday's help teams and individuals prepare for the rigors of the state tournament and afford a chance to wrestle against opponents from outside their regular sphere competition.

Round Lake's Northwest Suburban Conference meet with Johnsburg was postponed until Thursday, Jan. 21 because of bad weather. The Panthers will take on Grayslake Friday and Antioch and Marist in a triple-dual at Grant Saturday.

Antioch wrestlers hopeful for conference tie at tournament

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers
Antioch Wrestling Coach Ted DeRousse is smiling these days.

After winning the North Suburban Conference title last season, his young Sequoits were not even supposed to be in the conference race this season. But now, with the conference season over and the conference tournament upcoming on Jan. 30 at Warren High School, Antioch could realistically become the co-conference winners with Libertyville.

"Our goal is to go into the conference tournament 7-1 in the conference and then win the tournament," said DeRousse. "If that happens, we will be tied with Libertyville for the conference title."

According to DeRousse, the conference title is decided in halves. The first half is the conference season, which Libertyville won. The second half is the conference tournament, which if Antioch could win, it would produce a tie for title.

"We have been living up to our expectations," said

DeRousse. "We are competitive and beating the teams we should."

DeRousse hopes that the teams last four non-conference opponents this weekend will give the young team the desire to finish well in the tournament.

"We will wrestle against four tough teams this weekend at Weaton-Warrenville South on Friday and at Grant on Saturday," said DeRousse. "If we can beat three of those four teams overall, we will be ready for next week."

CLC men set for Morton

A last-second shot and having the offense in high gear for a conference game were highlights College of Lake County men's basketball team looks to build on.

Dave Huntington hit a buzzer-beater to down Milwaukee Area Technical College 79-77. CLC then notched its second Skyway Conference win with a 95-84 win over Oakton.

"We had the ball and ran a play to get a 15-18 foot shot. Huntington put a move on his man and put up the 15 footer," CLC Coach Bruce Smith said.

CLC (13-7) hosts Morton Jan. 26 at 7 p.m. in Grayslake.

Huntington, a Warren Twp. High School graduate, had 13 points. "Alden Bell was also a big contributor. He had two free throws in the last two minutes and a lay-up that gave us a lead," Smith said.

Bell is averaging 10.5 points a game.

Eddie White led the way with 21 points. Roy Gilmore added 13.

White matched his season average with 28 against Oakton. Gilmore also had 28. CLC was up by 10 at halftime, the Red Raiders rallied to four points before the Lancers increased the margin back to 16 points.

Inside game comes alive as Newcomb scores career high

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

Antioch Boys Basketball Coach Jeff Dresser has been looking for an inside game all season.

Now, with more than half the season gone, Antioch's front court trio of Eric Newcomb, Eckenstohler and Blaha, have begun to help out perimeter sharpshooter Jeff Woods.

"We can balance our attack better and take the pressure off of Jeff if we can get the inside game going," said Dresser, whose team is 5-12 (2-6). "In the last few games, especially in the Mundelein game, that trio has really stepped up their play inside."

Proof is in the statistics. Newcomb scored a career high 28 points, 17 in the second half, in the game against Mundelein. Starting center Eckenstohler added 17 points and 11 rebounds.

"We are improving inside with every game," said Dresser. "I think we are getting the idea that we have to have a balanced attack to win ballgames."

Dresser stresses though, that the team still needs the pinpoint shooting from the outside, which was the team's only consistent weapon early in the year.

"This does not mean will can pass up the open perimeter shot," said Dresser. "If a player is open, we need to get him the ball."

As for this weekend, Dresser hopes to run more bring up the tempo in front of the home crowd.

"Both Fremd and Fenton like to slow it down. We really need to put some pressure on them, especially at home," said Dresser.

Antioch is favored over Fenton, but could have some trouble with the physically larger Fremd team.

"We can't give them two and three shots," said Dresser. "Rebounding will be a key."

Rejuvenated Lady Sequoits set for Warren's challenge

Time ran out on Antioch's girls basketball team's bid to knock off second-place Fremd Saturday, but the Sequoits are hoping that momentum will lead to a strong second half.

Antioch fell 49-48 as the Bison were able to hold on.

"We had a slow start in the first quarter but the rest of the game we were hustling and our press was working," first-year Coach Karen Whalen said.

Antioch (1-8 North Suburban Conference, 2-15 overall) hosts Warren at 2:30 p.m. Jan. 23. Warren comes into the week with a 13-2 record, 6-2 in the NSC after losing to Fremd.

Marlene Gooch led the Sequoits with 16 points and is one of the team's best hustlers on defense. Liz Earl had seven points.

"It's a matter of pulling together. We're still weak in rebounding, but we worked on that in practice last night (Monday)," Whalen said.

Antioch responded from a 13-6 deficit after one quarter with a 14-9 run in the second. "We were never more than six points behind after that. The effort was just fantastic," Whalen said.

Whalen knows the Sequoits will be up against Warren's press. "We just have to be ready and concentrate on the fundamentals," Whalen said.

Duchane, Rams find target

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Jennie Dunbar's outside shooting was complimented by Allison Waldenstrom and a newcomer to double digits to Grayslake girls basketball scoring.

Julie Duchane scored 10 points as the Rams downed Johnsburg 54-42 in a Northwest Suburban Conference game Tuesday. The Rams, 54-40 losers to Wauconda Saturday, improved to 6-11 overall and evened their league mark at 5-5.

"Julie is getting more comfortable with finding her position and shooting. She shot the ball from the high post. She's quick and got herself open," Grayslake Coach Brad Larson said of the 5-7 sophomore.

The Rams host Round Lake Jan. 25 in a 7 p.m. game.

Dunbar and Waldenstrom both had 20 points against Johnsburg. Dunbar had four three-pointers.

"She has been launching them with regularity and they have been going in with regularity and when you have a player who does that, you give her the green light," Larson said.

The Rams led 16-7 after one quarter and built the lead to 44-27 in the second half. Larson was pleased with the Rams' defense.

"They held the ball for five minutes on two possessions and only could get one basket," Larson said.

Schaffer ends term perfectly

On the last scheduled day of the 87th General Assembly, outgoing State Senator Jack Schaffer (R-McHenry County) concluded 20 years of public service as a state senator with a perfect attendance record.

"I felt that it was my duty to be in Springfield representing the people in my district every day that the legislature was in session. Had I not been present, my constituents views would not have been represented that day," Schaffer said.

Sen. James "Pat" Philip, who was selected Senate President, recognized Schaffer's efforts on behalf of the people of Illinois.

Sen. Schaffer noted that being "on the Senate floor is only part of the job — you have to work for your constituents and the people of Illinois to do the job effectively. I have tried to be available to the people of the 32nd District and to serve as a liaison between them and the various state agencies that affect them."

suicide and was suspected of having an affair with the President in office. You'll see James Dean, who also died by being in the fast lane. So, if we can put a president into office who supposedly had an affair with another woman for several years, and elect a woman to the senate who almost got away with nursing home fraud, then why not a drug abuser? It makes perfect sense, doesn't it?

Making A Team Or A Buck

Thanks for the wonderful opportunity to voice our opinions about things in this Lipservice column. I'm calling with comments regarding Mike Ditka and his demise from the Bears. Though I really enjoyed watching Mike Ditka and his antics with the Bears over the years, it is, after all, only a game. Being a game, games have players and notable figures that come and go. I'm sorry to see Mike leave, but I am looking forward to seeing who will replace him. And as far as the comments about the McCaskeys go, they may not understand anything about football. They do, however, understand how to make a buck. So far, they seem to keep doing that as long as people keep buying tickets. I'm from Mundelein.

While On The Subject....

This is in response to "Women Want One Thing." I don't even have time to read your paper every week, but it seems that the last three or four times that I've read something in response to this person. I really didn't see the original letter or note, but I just want you to know that not all women want just one thing. I've been working full time since high school. I met and married, by the time I was 20, a guy who was very loving and wonderful. However, I make twice as much as he does. When he was off work, I carried the bills. When he was off work, I paid the child support. We have our own children, and I'm still carrying the bigger part of the bills. So what is this bull about women wanting one thing? What I want is someone who loves me, supports me emotionally and who views life as I do and wants to raise our children to be loving, caring people and see they get a good education. What I want from a man doesn't come from his wallet.

Paying For Pain?

This is in response to Dr. Dam's article. He is quoted as saying, "If they don't teach the children, they don't get paid." Therefore, you, as a doctor, if you don't cure the patient, you don't get paid, either. I'd like to see that.

We're Not In Right Now....

This is in response to the person who asked how to complain about a public official. I have been in similar situations, and have also received that stupid recording about 1,000 times. I have also questioned why the cops are jerks, why the town is a speed trap, why they collect money, what they use money for? I agree. It is ridiculous. We are both sick of it. When I got a hold of the mayor, he hung up on me.

Thanks For Honesty

I'm calling from Lindenhurst and I would like to thank Lipservice for having this service available to the people. I'm also calling to thank the person who was nice enough to return my checkbook journal that was lost in the Oakland parking lot on the last day of school before the holidays. I was afraid it was lost and there were six months of checks in there. I'm going to return the favor, not to you, but to somebody else.

You've Got To Be Kidding!

I would like to make this comment to the person, man, woman or child, probably a very small child, or a person with a very small brain that made the statement that Round Lake should take over Hainesville. First of all, a person should know better than that — one town can't just take over another town. Secondly, this person says he has a complaint against an official. If they have that, the board meets the second Tuesday of every month at 7:30 p.m. The whole board would be more than glad to listen to this person.

Wronged By Others

I'm from Mundelein and I'm calling about in response to the "Elvis hater." He was not a drug addict and had nothing to do with the corruption of others. He was a misunderstood man who fell into the trap of prescription drugs, forced on him by others. He was kind, caring and generous. Once you learn the facts about The King, then you may make a comment.

Keep Mouth Shut

This call originates from Gurnee. I would like to answer the person from Grayslake who said Gurnee is a slum. When you have businesses that are open, rather than closed, and when you have something other than high-priced, low-quality stores, you may have the opportunity to knock our town. Until then, keep your mouth shut and worry about what's going on in your own town.

Finish The Job

Now that we have reinstated the bombing of Iraq, let's see if the new President can get his act straight and take care of that country's backwards leader. It's about time we finish what we started. I live in Vernon Hills.

Deer Can Be Saved

I'm responding to the Lipservice article about deer and Mr. Home On The Range. When you have a little consideration for others, please come to talk to us. There's no reason you have to go out and kill deer. There are other, more humane ways to take care of this problem. I live in Lincolnshire.

Don't be fooled by false orange juice tales

If you swallow a watermelon seed, a watermelon will grow inside your stomach. If you cross your eyes too long, they'll stay crossed permanently.

When orange juice is pasteurized, the vitamin C is boiled out, evaporating into the air.

It may be obvious that there's no truth to any of the above statements. But believe it or not, there are people who actually believe, that when you buy orange juice which has been pasteurized, you end up with a liquid that tastes good, but from which all the vitamins have been removed.

"On the contrary," says Dr. Ed Moore, a research scientist with the Florida Department of Citrus. "Modern food technology applied to the processing of citrus is especially designed to preserve nutrients."

In the pasteurization process, orange juice is heated briefly before packaging; this sterilization preserves the quality and extends the shelf-life of the juice. Pasteurization does not significantly alter the nutritional value of the juice.

Doctor Moore says 100 percent pure Florida orange juice is available in a variety of packages, from cans and bottles to waxed cardboard containers, and in several forms, many of which are pasteurized. "Even after processing, citrus juices are a significant source of vitamin C," he says.

Dietary studies show that orange juice is the primary source of vitamin C in the American diet. Because the human body is unable to synthesize vitamin C, and does a poor job of retaining vitamin C in the absence of daily intake, this essential nutrient should be supplied every day. According to the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the recommended daily allowance is 60 milligrams.

"A six-ounce glass of 100 percent pure Florida orange juice from concentrate (a pasteurized product) provides 110 percent of the recommended daily allowance of vitamin C, along with other important nutrients such as folate—which is crucial to maintaining healthy red and white blood cells—and potassium, which helps muscles work properly," says Dr. Moore.

Glossary of juice terms

Orange juice comes in a variety of forms, the majority of which involve pasteurization. Following is a list of the most common forms in which you can buy orange juice:

• From concentrate: This refers to juice manufactured as a frozen concentrate, then reconstituted and pasteurized before packaging.

• Not from concentrate: This juice is flash-heated to pasteurize it immediately after the fruit is squeezed. It has never been concentrated.

• Frozen concentrate: This freshly-squeezed juice has been concentrated and frozen. It is reconstituted by adding back the amount of water originally removed.

• Fresh squeezed: This term means the juice was squeezed from fresh oranges and packaged in paper, glass or plastic containers. It is not pasteurized, is clearly labeled, and is located in the produce or dairy section of your grocery store.

• Fresh frozen: This is a freshly-squeezed juice that is packaged and frozen without pasteurizing or further processing; it is usually sold in plastic bottles in the frozen food section of the grocery store and is ready to drink after thawing.

• Chilled, ready-to-serve: This juice is made from frozen concentrate or pasteurized juice. It is packaged in paper, plastic or glass containers and is usually found in the dairy section.

• Canned juice: Canned juice has been pasteurized and sealed in cans, providing a shelf life of more than one year. Canned juice should be refrigerated after opening and used within one week.

• Juice in aseptic containers: This is a self-stable product usually found with canned and bottled juices on the dry goods shelf of your store. It is pasteurized juice or juice from concentrate, packaged in sterilized containers.
